EXPECT THIRD DAY TO BEAT 1924 FIGURE

Indications Point To Tuesday Crowd Of 40,000 In Spite Of Unsettled Weather Of Preceding Afternoon And Night --- Monday Attendance Set New High Mark.

Tuesday attendance at the state fair was expected at noon to eclipse the 1924 figure, following the precedent of Sunday and Monday at the 1925 exposition, in spite of the rains of Monday afternoon and evening that put a stop to the automobile races and the evening show in front of the grandstand. Last year the mark for Tuesday was 37,467, and Secretary George Jackson looked for a figure near 40,000. This would not be a record, however; in 1919, the boom year, the record of 48,248 for the third day was set.

The grounds were vacant Tuesday morning, after the crush of Monday when 61,067 passed through the gates, but by noon automobiles from 50 and 75 miles away from Lincoln began coming in. Families had waited to see whether the skies cleared In many localities near the city no rain fell Monday and many were planning on seeing the first of the horse racing Tuesday afternoon, were reports brought into Secretary Jackson's office

"Every Day Bigger" Is Slogan.

"Every day this year bigger than last" is the motto the secretary has taken. He went over the grounds in the morning, and finding the buildings full and sidewalks crowded, made the prediction that it would "beat last year"

The Monday rain was too driving and of too short duration to soak deeply into the race track or the dirt roads on the grounds, and thoroughbreds in harness were speeding around the oval Tuesday morning. The interruption of the auto races Labor day should strengthen Friday's auto race program, Mr. Jackson believes.

The Auditorium was full and many were standing at the edge of the structure listening to the concerts by Dan DesDunes band at 10 o'clock Tuesday and that of the Thavin band at 11:30.

Judging of draft horses began Tuesday morning in the Coliseum and examination of all classes of livestock were going forward in the respective buildings

Horse Shoe Tourney Opens.

The opening of the state horseshoe pitching tournament north of Agricultural hall drew a crowd of spectators to the special bleachers erected beside the courts

The best baby beeves ever shown at the Nebraska state fair in the opinion of the judges, were to be sold under the hammer in the Coliseum at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. As last year, it was expected the building would be filled with spectators and that packer buyers would be present with their pockets full of special orders from meat markets of Lincoln and Omaha for prime beeves at special prices.

Over seventy county champion demonstration teams in boys and girls club work began competition Tuesday morning at the extension building for the right to represent the state at interstate and national fairs later in the year Agricultural college faculty members are judging the demonstrations, put on by teams of two or three for about twenty minutes each

Some of the boys and girls, only 10 or 12 years old, were speaking and going through their work before a large audience as well as most adults might. These teams are the pick of 600 in the state, agricultural college men said

The rush at the emergency hospital was continuing Tuesday, and the nurses found patients waiting for them when they came back from breakfast At noon 200 cases had been recorded since the opening of the fair.

A fire in a transformer box Monday went out without causing damage. Tuesday morning the fire truck was stuck in the mud for a time. A "river" had come in down the sloping ground Monday night, the firemen said

The machinery exhibit continued popular with a half dozen thresher firms located across the road east of Agricultural hall where only a few tractors were last year.

First Spoon Bill Cat Fish.

Two big spoonbill catfish were put in the new fish pond at the rear of the state fisheries building Monday evening by Superintendent W. J. O'Bryan of the Gretna fisheries. They are the first ever to be exhibited here, he said, as they are hard to obtain and hard to keep They weigh about 35 or 40 pounds apiece, and were taken in an inlet of the Platte near Meadow.

MAY DECLARE MARTIAL LAW

M'ALESTER, Okla., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—A tense feeling prevails at Hartshorne today near here while a decision is being reached at the state capitol at Oklahoma City whether martial law shall be declared in the mining district and state troops despatched to maintain order.

Sunday night the fan house of mine No. 12 of the Rock Island Coal Co, was dynamited.

The explosion resulted in a trip to Oklahoma City yesterday by Sheriff Will Anderson and County Attorney W. E. Gotcher of Pittsburgh county, to lay the situation before Governor Trapp, with recommendations for martial law.

Conditions in Hartshorne district have grown worse during the past week, following a fire in a mine dump, which, it was indicated later, had been smouldering for some time. Non-union miners have begun to carry arms, declaring that their lives have been threatened.

NOLTE DENIES HE IS KILLER

Man Arrested In New Mexico Says That He Was Not At North Platte When Officer Was Slain.

PRISONER IDENTIFIED BY THREE WITNESSES

No Trace Thus Far Discovered Of Coren, Who Is Supposed to Have Made His Escape Into Mexico.

R. L. Nolte, one of the alleged slayers of Policeman Ed. Clark of North Platte and Sheriff Pratt of Colby, Kas., was questioned again this morning by State Sheriff Condit and Sheriff Berthe of North Platte in an effort to learn something of the whereabouts of Nolte's partner Clyde Coren. The efforts failed however, Sheriff Condit said

Nolte is said to have denied having ever been in Nebraska or North Platte and declares he was never farther north than Liberal, Kan It was reported that Nolte had admitted being in the car at the time the officers were shot and to have said that his partner Coren fired the shots This has been repudiated by him however.

Nolte was brought to Lincoln late Monday night by Sheriff Berthe and Officer Frahm of North Platte. Sheriff Condit followed them into Lincoln by train after having stopped for a short time in Hastings, Neb. Finger print identifications of Nolte were made this morning and later he was taken to the penitentiary where he will be held until time for his trial in North Platte

Sheriff Berthe said this morning that a charge of first degree murder has been filed against Nolte but the date of the arraignment has not been set

In spite of Nolte's denial both Berthe and Condit are confident they have the right man. He was picked out of a group of four prisoners in the Tucumari, N. M. jail, where he was being held for the Nebraska and Kansas officers.

WOMAN MAY DIE OF BURNS

Katherine Kotch's Clothing Becomes Ignited From Kerosene Lamp at Her Home Tuesday Morning.

LITTLE HOPE HELD FOR HER RECOVERY

Mother Severely Burned Attempting to Smother the Flames — Neighbors Attracted by Blaze But Unable to Render Assistance.

Despite the frantic efforts of her mother to beat out the flames with her bare hands, Katherine Kotch, 35 years old 1146 Y street, was probably fatally burned at her home about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when her clothing became ignited from a kerosene lamp with which she was working. She was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where only slight hope, if any, is held for her recovery by Drs Edwin Zimmerer and W. H Slattery and Clar C. Johnson, who attended her Her mother, Mrs Lila Kotch, was severly burned about the hands when attempting to smother the flames

The young woman was alone in the house, her mother working in the garden just back of the house at the time of the accident. Just how her clothing caught fire is not known, for the mother hearing the screams ran into the house, but was pushed away by the daughter, who ran out into the yard, her clothing ablaze. The mother followed her and made her lie down on the ground in an effort to smother the flames by rolling on the ground and by beating with her bare hands, for she had no time to seize a rug. Neighbors, attracted by the flames came to help, but were unable to render effective assistance, as nearest live a block away.

According to Mrs. F Gross and her daughter, Bertha, 1201 Charleston street, the flames could be seen above a high board fence, which surround the little yard.

The fire caught the front of her dress, it is believed, and spread about her person. The mother had smothered the blaze around the upper portion of her daughter's body by the time neighbors arrived.

The Kotchs have no telephone in the house and there was some delay in securing a doctor and an ambulance because of that fact. Workmen at the Standard Planing Mill, near the home, called Splain and Schnell's ambulance, and Dr Slattery was called from the Gross home

At the home Tuesday morning neighbors could not determine just what Miss Kotch was doing with the lamp, but decided that she probably was using it to heat a curling iron

ACT TO PUNISH COL. MITCHELL

Inspector General Of Army Instructed To Investigate Air Service Officer's Statement And Courtmartial May Result.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The war department moved today to punish Col. William M. Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air service, for his slashing attack of Saturday on the conduct of military aeronautics by the war and navy departments.

After a conference with Acting Secretary of War Dwight Davis, who returned to Washington today, Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, formally called upon the inspector general of the army, Maj. Gen. Eli Helmick, to investigate Mitchell's statement, as issued to the press in San Antonio, as a basis for action by the department.

There was little doubt today among army officers at the war department that Mitchell would be court martialed, as he predicted, but Secretary Davis was reluctant to discuss the issues involved pending the investigation now under way.

The inspector general will have to determine officially, first, if Mitchell actually made the statements attributed to him in the press, and, second, if these statements are sufficient grounds for disciplinary action by the war department.

Will Report to Chief.

Should he decide that there are grounds for court martialing Mitchell, he will so report to the chief of staff, who in turn will notify the secretary of war, who will formally order Mitchell arrested and tried.

It was expected that the charge against him would be "conduct prejudicial to the good order and discipline" in the military establishment in view of his charge that the shenandoah disaster was the result of "criminal neglect" and "almost traesonable administration" of military aeronautics by the war and navy departments.

The estimate today was that it would require about ten days to dispose of thep reliminary formalities in the Mitchell case and that the "flying general" would not be arrested in the meantime.

Secretary Wilbur Replies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Secretary Wilbur today replied indirectly to one charge made by Col. William Mitchell in his attack on the navy and army air services.

The secretary said the Shenandoah had not been sent on her western trip in an effort to make up for failure of the polar flight and the Hawaiian flight.

A western voyage had been planned months ago, he said, before the Hawaiian flight was arranged and about the same time that the Arctic expedition was agreed upon.

History Making Session Of Interstate Commerce Commission Looms As Investigators Gather To Consider Freight Tariffs As A Whole.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. — (By the Associated Press.) — A history making session of the interstate commerce commission is in prospect as Chairman Clyde B. Aitchison convenes that body here today for a hearing expected to consider railroad freight rates as a whole, as well as a petition from western carriers for a 5 per cent increase.

Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state, is an outstanding figure in the rate inquiry as a result of his retention some time ago to represent the receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

Want Relationship Unchanged.

Many of the western carriers, however, seek a 5 per cent increase that would not upset the present relationship of rates. These western roads have estimated that on a basis of 1924 tonnage and revenue a 5 per cent rate advance would mean only a 4.58 net return on the investment of western railways. The roads generally ask for a net of 5.75 per cent, the figure the transportation act placed as that which a railroad should earn.

The Hoch-Smith congressional resolution calling for a general investigation of rail rates is expected to receive preliminary consideration by the commission at this hearing.

Representatives of the Corn Belt committee, including delegates from various farmer organizations, will attend the hearing in the interest of agriculture.

To Hear Shippers Later.

Although the hearing here is expected to be ex parte, with only the railroad men heard, the shippers' voices will be heard later. It is expected that after hearing the rail men, Chairman Aitchison will adjourn the inquiry to some other city and the shippers will be heard there.

Representatives of shippers, nevertheless, put in an appearance today, among them John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, who announced that when the shippers' side is heard Charles Piez, president of the manufacturers' organization and formerly head of the United States emergency fleet corporation, would testify.

Fred S. Jackson, former attorney general of Kansas, represents the American Farm Bureau federation and the Corn Belt committee, the latter including various midwest organizations. Mr. Jackson will have charge of the farm bureau's fight against a rate increase.

NEW CLUE IN HASTINGS CASE

Denver Police Holding Man Said to Have Been Seen In Hastings On Day Murder Was Committed.

State Sheriff Condit is working on a new clue which he believes may lead to the solution of the Hastings double murder mystery, in which the victims were Clarence Yager and Mrs. Hazel Bird.

One of the two men who were seen in Hastings the day of the murder and who aroused suspicions when they visited three filling stations attempting to trade a suit of clothes for some gasoline, has been located by the Denver police and held for Condit.

The man is said to live in Denver and was traveling through from Sioux City to his home at the time of the murder. He declares that he was driving a Chevrolet coupe but none of the filling station men saw the car

Condit was in communication with the Denver officers this morning. They do not believe that the man had anything to do with the murder and stated that they would be unable to hold him unless further evidence was produced. Condit is now working to gather up clues which might lead to identification. No trace of the other man has been found and no information was received from Denver as to his whereabouts.

Girl Bitten By Escaped Monkey

Recalling that a monkey's bite caused the death of the king of Greece several years ago, Bert Cline of Morrill became alarmed when a monkey which had escaped from a show there bit his 14-year-old daughter twice, and he wired in wired in to Chief Wilson of the state health bureau to find out what should be done.

Dr. Wilson telegraphed back that there probably would be no harmful results, but in order to make perfectly sure the attending surgeon had better administer anti-hydrophobia serum, besides taking other precautions.

Dazzy Vance Hurls a Nearly Perfect Game

BROOKLYN, Sept. 8.—(A.P.)—Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn's star hurler, pitched a one hit game against the Phillies today and the Dodgers won the first game of a double-header, 1 to 0.

Only twenty-seven men faced the Brooklyn strike out king in the nine innings. He allowed but one hit and did not pass a batter. The exhibition was the nearest thing to a perfect game pitched in the major leagues this season.

With one out in the second inning to right, the only hit of the game made off the Flatbush beauty. Hawks, however, was out a moment later in an attempt to steal second, this being the nearest any member of the Philadelphia team came to reaching secnd base.

Vancefanned six batters during the nine innings and increased his season's strike outs to 204. It was his twenty-first victory of the season and considering the fact that Vance pitched today after two days' rest his performance is all the more remarkable.

The Robinsons made only six hits off Pierce and their only run in the fourth on Stock's single, Wheat's sacrifice and Fournier's single. Both teams played errorless ball.

ANOTHER RECORD BREAKING CROWD AT FAIR MONDAY

Biggest Second Day In History With An Attendance of 61,076.

Sudden Downpour Causes Postponement of Races and Evening Program.

A drenching, driving rain put a stop to the Labor day automobile races on the state fair dirt track Monday afternoon after a record crowd of 61,076 had filled the grounds and packed the grandstand and bleachers to overflowing. The nearest to that figure for Monday at the fair was in 1923 when 54,246 paid admissions. Automobiles that passed through the gates Monday numbered 7,224.

Only standing room was available in the grandstand after noon, and while the track was being conditioned after the softening by a light rain shortly after 12 o'clock the huge audience stood and sat for over four hours while Dan DesDunes' band and soloists and several vaudeville acts entertained.

President Purcell called for automobiles to run the track dry after it had been dragged for over an hour, and when the fifty that responded had taken the slipperiness out of most of the roadway the auto racers sped around ten laps in a closely contested five-mile event.

Then the storm broke. The heavy clouds followed the predictions of weather experts and a high wind drove mist from what soon developed into a downpour into the stands. The audience broke and took refuge under the grandstand, while out on the grounds crowds fled to shelter in the auditorium, where a band concert was in progress, and in Agricultural hall, in other exposition buildings, and and even under the awnings about concession stands.

But the crowd kept its temper and after it stood close packed for about a half hour while those on the edges were caught at intervals by overflow from a roof or by rain driven in a new direction by the wind, the sun came out and the storm seemed over.

The experience was repeated on a lesser scale in the evening when a fine drizzle forced the management to abandon the opera presentation by the Thaviu company and the fireworks spectacle following. Return checks were issued to some of the audience and many of them took their money back.

No hail fell at the fair grounds.

Dan DesDunes band, with a soprano soloist, a tenor soloist, and a whirlwind "dancin' Sam" won hearty applause during the long wait in the afternoon and again before the evening audience in the grandstand. The Thaviu band moved to the Auditorium and presented scenes from several operas.

No difficulty was experienced by the fire department or the police at the fair, but the hospital was kept busy Monday afternoon. At 5 o'clock 120 cases had been attended, and late in the evening over 150.

Two Are Injured.

Rae Schlaesser, Des Moines concession man, was burned on the face and right hand when a gasoline stove flared, and Elmer May, Lincoln boy, suffered a deep cut on right leg Monday morning when an iron gate fell on him. Other cases in the afternoon were not as serious. Dr. C. Arnold and Dr. J. J. Loomis and two nurses, Mrs. Abbie Clausen and Miss Eva Hoffman, had their hands full most of the afternoon.

Four lost children were reported during the day. One, Bernard Howell of Lincoln, was found during the rain storm lying in the mud and water in a gutter.

LITTLE HOPE FOR MISSING AIRMEN

HONOLULU, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—One week ago Com. John Rodgers and four other navy fliers took off from San Francisco in the seaplane PN-1 No. 1, for a non-stop flight to Honolulu. They have not been seen since.

Despite the increasingly apparent hopeless nature of the search, officers and men of the United States navy in Hawaiian waters continued to seek some trace of Commander Rodgers and his seaplane. They expressed themselves as determined to save the missing aviators or find some trace confirming their loss.

Boy Injured In Fall From Wagon Shows Improvement

Much improvement was shown Tuesday morning in the condition of Albert Kuebler, 8-year-old lad who suffered a brain concussion Monday when he fell from his wagon, according to advices from St. Elizabeth's hospital. The boy was found unconscious at his home Monday afternoon, and at that time it was not known how he had sustained his injury. He recovered consciousness long enough to relate the accident, however. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kuebler, 909 G street. The boy is attended by Dr. W. G. Rickard.

Desire to See Pen Lands Pair In County Jail

A great desire to get into the penitentiary this morning landed James Burke and Joseph Bender, two Chicago boys, in the county jail instead. Sunday Burke and Pender were seen loitering near the prison and when asked what they were doing said they were cousins of a prisoner named LaRue and wished to see him. Warden Fenton asked them to wait until he could identify them through the convict. Then they admitted that they were not relatives but only friends.

Warden Fenton immediately ousted both of them. This morning both boys turned up at the prison again. While talking to a trusty outside the gates, one of them mentioned something to the effect that "the warden was a hard egg," and threatened to get him if they were not allowed to visit LaRue.

But once again they were ousted by the warden. Shortly after they had left the prison the trusty informed Warden Fenton of the threat. Warden Fenton immediately set out in pursuit and catching them, took them back to the prison. County Officers Ward and Vorhies were called and the two boys were turned over to them.

Their finger prints were taken by State Sheriff Condit and they are being held in the county jail for identification.

Lincoln Man, 64, Reported Missing

He was described as short, light in weight, and with a gray moustache.

Today

Labor Day in America. Arrest Colonel Mitchell? Not With Coolidge's Consent.

By Arthur Brisbane.

Labor day, once more, a day without labor and with little thinking, and for 99 per cent of all the people merely a day for pleasure.

Labor in this country, free from class consciousness assiduously cultivated in Europe, looks upon itself not as a class apart, and with good reason.

The laboring man of today may make of himself the business man of tomorrow, and the man of great wealth day after tomorrow.

Social lines in the United States are not solidified or petrified. It's a short step from a sewing machine to a Rolls Royce, from a set of tools to the head office of a big controlling concern.

Labor day is welcome. It's a holiday at exactly the right time. But so far as labor is concerned, it doesn't mean much.

Colonel Mitchell, formerly brigadier general, lowered in rank because he dared tell the truth about aircraft conditions in the United States, has written a statement that will startle the country.

His description of the farcical parade of battleships in the Pacific and the ultra farcical announcement that our fleet had conquered an enemy fleet and taken Honolulu will interest the president.

Colonel Mitchell writes fearlessly, roughly and most unpleasantly for certain arm-chair gentlemen in Washington.

Colonel Mitchell predicts that he will be put under military arrest for this statement.

Those who know President Coolidge, the millions of Americans that believe in him, believe that instead of allowing Colonel Mitchell to be put under arrest, the president will send for him, and learn for himself the basis of the statements that Colonel Mitchell makes.

The president of the United States is interested in the security of the United States, and in the men whose lives are alleged to have been sacrificed to ignorance and political advertising.

Colonel Mitchell has already been lowered in rank because he told the truth to the people and to congress.

Any order to put him under arrest for his recent statement would certainly be submitted to the president before going through.

And it is not conceivable that the president would permit that drastic suppression of free speech.

Prof. Borring of Columbia university, who estimates the probable population of New York City in 1965 at 50,000,000, is interested in the architectural problems that will come with a city containing more people than all of France, or England.

Future architecture will depend on flying machine development in the next 40 years. If the helicopter, flying straight up and down, is made a success, architects in 40 years will plan their buildings for flying machine landings.

And, regardless of the helicopter, it is probable that another half century will see the office and manufacturing buildings big enough, half a mile square perhaps, to allow for airplane landings.

If New York City is to have 50,000,000 population 40 years hence, what will the population of other American cities be, Chicago, Los Angeles, and future cities in Texas, Florida or Washington?

Cities will grow to monstrous size, as the dinosaurs did thousands of centuries ago. And probably like the dinosaurs, after the cities have grown too big, they will die out.

Human beings will live on mountain tops, hill tops in small separate communities, with plenty of room for each. They will fly down to their work, not in cities, but in fertile valleys or in big individual factory buildings of glass and steel.

"It hath not yet been shown what we shall be," and what is more, no man living at present can guess the future.

Pauperism is dying out in the United States thanks to better wages, widows' pensions, more enlightened medical care, and especially campaigns of health advertising, carried on by the great life insurance companies.

Of 100,000 in our population, only 71.5 are in poor houses now. And that is exactly 71.5 too many.

In 1914, there were 91.5 out of 100,000 in the poor houses. Things have improved since the war forced up wages.

Here is news to set the teeth of a good single taxer on edge. Lord Howard De Walden has sold his property, 40 acres in the city of London, for 4,000,000 pounds. Lord Howard is one or seven men that once owned the whole city of London.

Selling out now, valuable properties on several of the busiest streets of London, the noble lord shows wisdom.

He has kept track of radicalism in Britain and realizes that the happy days of landlords, paying practically no taxes, are coming to an end.

DRENCHING RAINS IN SOME PLACES

Northern Nebraska Gets Heaviest Precipitation; 3 Inches at Norfolk.

Hail Accompanies Brief Storm Here During Which Nearly Inch Fell.

Rains that fell over a large portion of the state Monday and Monday night were mostly of the local thunderstorm variety but rather wide-spread, reports here indicate.

After three messages from widely separated stations, the weather bureau reported that some precipitation had been recorded at Valentine, North Platte and Omaha. In Lincoln, .86 of an inch fell during the twenty-four hours. Practically all of this came down during the half hour storm after 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Hail that accompanied it was as large as hens eggs in southeast Lincoln, it is said, although smaller in the downtown sections and still smaller towards University Place and Havelock. A seven foot wall built for Freadrich Bros. at Twenty-first and N streets fell into the basement during the deluge.

Heavy rainfall was reported at Norfolk, Fremont, O'Neill, Sioux City, Davey, David City and Surprise are other points where precipitation was reported.

The weather bureau's report of rainfall for the past 24 hours follows:

Ashland	.25	Broken Bow	.71
Columbus	.15	Fairbury	.07
Fairmont	.29	Hartington	1.56
Lincoln	.86	No. Platte	.03
Oakdale	1.85	Omaha	.12
O'Neill	1.50	Tekamah	2.75
Valentine	.26

Heavy rains averaging approximately an inch were received along the Burlington's Columbus line and in the vicinity of O'Neill Monday afternoon, according to reports received here this morning. Light rains were also reported on the Sioux City line north of Omaha, and in the vicinity of Fremont. From one-fourth to a half inch of rain was received in the vicinities of Crete and Fairmont.

NOEL FACES A LIFE SENTENCE

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Harrison W. Noel, 20, former, Harvard student and escaped inmate of an insane asylum, who kidnaped and killed 6-year-old Mary Daly because of a craving for $4,000 in ransom money, seems likely to be ordered confined for life as were the slayers of Bobby Franks in Chicago.

Noel pleaded guilty yesterday to the kidnaping charge. He denied he shot and killed the girl or Raymond Pierce, negro taxicab driver, to get an automobile for the abduction. He awaits arraignment on charges of murdering the girl and wounding John Sandin, chauffeur, who gave chase after the kidnaping. Sunday he confessed with boastfulness to all of the crimes.

Capt. James A. Mason, head of Essex county detectives, says Noel is "hopelessly" insane. A committee of alienists is to be sought by John A. Bigelow, prosecutor of Essex county, to examine the youth. If he is found insane he will be committed to the state hospital at Trenton. If found sane, his plea of guilty of the kidnaping charge exposes him to a sentence of life imprisonment. There is no lesser sentence for the crime in New Jersey.

While "Jersey justice" has been noted as swift and sure, it is believed that rather than go through a murder trial, with the probability of a fight on insanity, the officials would be content with a kidnaping sentence.

Three persons have narrowly escaped death at Noel's hands, records at the county insane asylum at Overbrook show.

South Africans Quit Jobs to Join In Diamond Rush

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 8.— —Thousands of workers in this district have abadoned their jobs to take part in a diamond rush to Oersonkrail, where several valuable finds have been reported. Already 3,000 claims have been staked off and diamond buyers are said to have purchased stones weighing as much as twenty-eight carats each, which were found only 18 inches under the soil.

Hundreds of athletes took part in the rush, running several miles to stake claims.

One of the most valuable of the claims was marked off by a champion runner on behalf of a one-legged war veteran, who could not keep up with the other competitors.

TWO HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

Man and Wife Accused Of Starting Fire To Farm Dwelling.

On evidence collected by Deputy Fire Marshal Butcher and placed in the hands of the Box Butte county attorney, Vernon L. Thompson and his wife have been arrested at Eldorado Springs, Mo., and taken back to Alliance to face a charge of arson. They are accused of having set fire to a farm dwelling half a mile south of there on the night of July 31.

The building, owned by Mrs. G. L. Timmins, was worth about $1,500 and was not insured. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, who occupied it, had their household goods covered to the extent of $850, Deputy Fire Marshal Butcher said. The house and its contents were destroyed in the blaze. The Thompsons afterward collected the insurance and left the state.

After an investigation had developed a number of circumstances pointing to incendiarism, the couple were located in Missouri and Sheriff Jones of Box Butte county went after them. Their preliminary hearing is set for Wednesday.

MURDER CHARGES AGAINST QUARTET

Arrested In Connection With Wrecking of Kentucky Passenger Train.

STANFORD, Ky., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Four persons have been arrested on charges of murder growing out of the wreck at Knob Lick, four miles from here, Saturday night of a L. & N. passenger train in which Engineer Fox Dudderar was killed and fifteen others injured.

Herbert Hail, Oscar and Lesie Sishon and Oley Kidd are charged with plotting to wreck the train, while seven persons, three of whom are women, are being held as witnesses.

The train crashed into an open switch in which a rail had been loosened.

Railroad detectives investigating the wreck believe that it was a plot to wreck the train and then rob the mail car, as Hall attempted to enter the mail car. He and his companions fled when a clerk appeared with a gun.

Woodrow Wilson's Widow Is Pleased With Geneva Visit

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—(A. P.)—"It is magnificent," Mrs. Woodrow Wilson said to personal friends last night after spending the entire day closely following the opening day deliberations of the League of Nations assembly.

She left the league auditorium deeply affected by the day's experience. She was particularly impressed by what Dr. Eduard Benes, foreign minister of Czecho-Slovakia, told her of a practical attribute of the League of Nations which is not generally known. "Do you realize," he said, to Mrs. Wilson, "that by spending four weeks each year at Geneva I see every foreign minister in Europe. Like other ministers I am able to treat in this neutarl atmosphere many questions existing between us which are amplified later into important agreements. The League of Nations, founded by your husband, is a great time saver."

PANSY shades and "affinities" in WOOLENS

Unquestionably the pansy shades and kindred hues are the smart ones for early frocks. These tones are becoming to most women. That, and the fact that they are beautiful of themselves is probably the reason for their furore this season.

VICE PRESIDENT RENEWS ATTACK

Dawes Assails Anew Senate Procedure In Portland, O., Address.

Declares Defeat In Battle He Is Waging Is Not Possible.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept., 8.—Renewing his attack on rules of the United States senate Vice President Charles G. Dawes in an address here last night, quoted records to disprove an argument that more laws would be passed if the right of unlimited debate were taken from the senate.

"It stands to reason," said Mr. Dawes, "that any body which, for the privilege of acting as a unit, must make concessions to its individual members will pass more legislation—other things being equal—than a body that does not operate under that handicap. The facts are that in the last five sessions of congress the senate, with ninety-six members, has passed 182 more bills and resolutions than the house of representatives with 435 members.

"The senate passed its larger number of 3,133 bills and resolutions in those ten years out of a total of 29,000 introduced. And the house with majority cloture, passed its lesser number of 2,930 out of about 82,000 bills and resolutions introduced.

"Since May 12, 1910, sixty-six different times it has been necessary for the majority and minority leaders in the senate, both parties, to go as supplicants to every individual member of the senate to get his consent to a unanimous agreement that the senate of the United States could do its business properly and get it through with.

Declaring that defeat is impossible in the fight he is waging, the vice president asserted:

"There is nothing more majestic than the march of a truth among the ranks of the American people. Because it is right, you can't lose. For the time, one presenting the truth may seem defeated. Then he rises stronger by every defeat. Everything, anything happens when an issue is once in the minds of the American people. Don't any of you feel sorry for me when you read I am getting beaten. It is not me. It is not my proposition. It has been fought for by many of the best men in the senate, from the days of Henry Clay to the day of Oscar Underwood. It is not a partisan question. The reason why I, as vice president of the United States, have come to you and speak to you upon this issue is because it is my duty, as it would be my duty in connection with the budget, as director of the budget; it is a question in which all parties are interested—a nonpartisan question—as to how the business of this government, your government, should be run."

Boy Jailed After Starting Fire to Attract Rescuers

TUSCON, Ariz., Sept. 8.—(A. P.)—Sol Framan, 19 years old, New York youth, got lost in the wide open spaces at the head of Pima canon, near here, yesterday.

Not to be outdone in resource by plainsmen and trail blazers of history, Sol drew his pistol and shot into the tinder like brush with the intention of starting signal fire to effect his rescue.

He succeeded. The fire got unreasonably active, however, and Sol was forced to take to his heels.

Today he is in the city jail here charged with starting a forest fire. Two hundred acres of brush land are burning at the canyon's head and eighteen forest rangers are busy trying to extinguish it.

Coolidge Ready For Trip Back To The Capital

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Preparing to leave for Washington tomorrow night, President Coolidge was busy today clearing up his desk at the summer white house.

His departure for the capital is timed by the president to permit him to meet his cabinet on Friday morning

Mr. Coolidge is watching the situation in the anthracite field where the miners have suspended activities, but there is no indication that he is ready to take a hand in this problem.

Likewise there is no indication that the executive will give heed to the censure of the aviation forces by Col. William Mitchell, leaving the case in the hands of the war department.

Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, was invited to lunch today by the president. Norman Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., prominent democrat leader who is visiting in this section, also was on the calling list at White Court today.

SAYS INDUSTRIAL MERGERS NEEDED

Secretary of Labor Declares Would Stop Waste, Give Steady Employment.

ROOSEHEART, Ill., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Industrial consolidation as a step to eliminate waste in production, assure steady employment, reduce costs and curb over-development, was advocated last night by Secretary of Labor Davis in his Labor Day address, broadcast from Moose headquarters station WJJD.

Laws which make economic consolidation illegal serve no public interest and should be altered to conform with present day requirements, he declared.

He deplored attempts to defeat the present laws of immigration, urging that friends of the law join him in an effort to make the present law more selective.

In alluding incidentally to organized labor, he said that trade unions "will have hard sledding and a rough road to travel if it cannot itself adjust the jurisdictional dispute.

"The unions alone can settle that difficulty and they should."

Cites Incidents.

Secretary Davis cited the boot and shoe, bituminous mining, milling and transportation as industries in which vast economies might be affected by consolidations.

"The greatest source of unemployment in this country is the over-development of industry," he asserted.

He said 227, ar 14 1-2 per cent, of 1,570 boot and shoe factories in the country shipped 65 per cent of the industry's production. In this group, each man produces an average of 1,696 pairs, valued at $5,333.-77. This group alone with steady employment would produce all present requirements. In the next group of 738 plants producing about 31 per cent of the country's shoes, the average production of a worker is 1,388 pairs. In the third group of 605 factories the output for each employe is 1,069 pairs.

"In other words 14 1-2 per cent of the factories employing 60.7 per cent of the workers now produce 65.6 per cent of the output and, could, with steady work for 300 days a year, produce all the boots and shoes we need."

Shenandoah Wreck Due to Leadership Hugo Eckner Says

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckner, head of the Zeppelin works and builder of the Shenandoah's sister ship, the Los Angeles, made the claim yesterday that under German leadership and with a German trained crew the Shenandoah disaster would not have happened

"I myself have navigated Zeppelins in extremely difficult weather, but always have succeeded in keeping the ship in hand," he said. "The tragic misha pof the Shenandoah and accidents in other countries show that Germany still has a mission to perform in aerial navigation which she alone can fulfill."

Half the world is half asleep

Can success in life be undermined by constipation? Indeed it can. The poisons of this disease tire you out, wear you down, make you listless and make you lose interest in things in general. Ambition is most often prompted by a thoroughly healthy body. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings permanent relief from constipation.

"Shoulders that droop and feet that drag"

THERE are men and women who seem to be eternally tired. They go about things in a listless sort of way. They try, but they can't seem to make the grade. Perhaps they do not realize that it is constipation which is sapping their energy.

There is a sure relief from this disease. It is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN goes completely through the system without changing its fiber. It sweeps the intestine clean, purifies it, absorbs and carries moisture through it, urges it to act exactly as nature intended. Unlike habit-forming pills and drugs, it is never necessary to increase the amount of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN which you first find effective.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regain your health and keep you feeling fit. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat your two tablespoonfuls with milk or cream, sprinkle it over other cereals, cook it with hot cereals, put it in soups and try it in the recipes given on every package.

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN

To be effective, bran fiber must go through the various digestive processes without submitting to any of them. It must pass through the entire alimentary tract without its form being changed.

What happens when a bran food is eaten? After the saliva has acted upon it, it passes through the stomach and into the intestines, where every part which is not fiber is absorbed. In ALL-BRAN the quantity of fiber is so great that it furnishes bulk enough to prevent and relieve constipation.

In a part-bran food, the quantity of fiber is so small that there is only a puny amount to do a herculean task.

ALL-BRAN brings sure results. Demand it.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—the original and only ALL-BRAN—for only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. All grocers sell it. Begin eating it today. Served in leading hotels and restaurants.

LABOR ESSENTIAL TO GOVERNMENT

Governor McMullen Addresses Great Throng At Omaha Celebration.

OMAHA, Sept. 8.—(AP)— The essentials of labor to good government were stressed by Governor McMullen in a labor day address at a local park here Monday afternoon. The celebration was under the auspices of the Central Labor union.

Despite intermittent showers which fell in the afternoon several thousands of persons thronged to the resort to hear the governor's address and participate in the several sporting events which were held in conjunction with the celebration.

"Of all human activities, labor is the most essential and therefore the most exalted," the governor said. "Without labor men degenerate and nations decline. Without labor there can be no progress, no government, no civilization. Whatever America is today materially and morally, is due solely and entirely to individual industry. The American who does not work can claim no part in the upbuilding of the nation."

That an individual can be wealthy and still be a worker was shown by the speaker, who recalled that Washington who was reputed to be the wealthiest man in all the colonies wsa also a hard worker as was also Benjamin Franklin.

"History shows that mighty nations which finally crumbled entered a decline when their citizenry became indifferent to their responsibility to the state,' 'the governor declared.

Monday's address was the first appearance of Governor McMullen since his recent operation for the removal of his tonsils and was cut short due to the soreness of his throat.

SAYS LANSDOWNE ANXIOUS TO FLY

Admiral Moffett Declares Commander Expressed Desire to Make Trip.

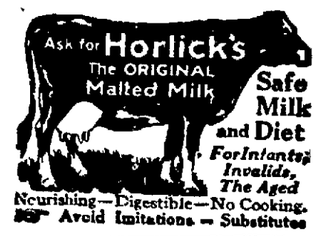

OMAHA, Sept. 8.—(AP)— The wreck of the Shenandoah will have little if any effect upon use of dirigibles by the navy in the future, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics stated here last night. He is enroute to Washington, having been called there by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

Admiral Moffeet asked if any word had been received from the PN-9 No. 1, the airplane which disappeared on the flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, and expressed belief that the men would be found alive. Kleen-Heet's Answer to All Questions About Oil Heating!

There is just one thing you want to know, after all, about any heating system—PERFORMANCE—that takes in everything! And PERFORMANCE is Kleen-Heet's answer to every oil heating question.

In over 20,000 homes, in hospitals, churches and schools, in hundreds of cities from Miami to Winnipeg, Kleen-Heet is giving perfect service under all sorts of conditions.

Kleen-Heet means automatic heat. Controlled heat. Clean heat. Constant heat. Even heat. Dependable heat. Think what these mean not only to the comfort but to the health of your family!

Schools like the one at Grand Rapids, Mich., shown above, have found Kleen-Heet the solution of their heating problems. Its automatic features safeguard children from the discomforts as well as the dangers of coal heating.

St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Chicago, is one of the many churches which are now Kleen-Heet equipped. Quietness is only one of the many characteristics which have made Kleen-Heet a favorite in church installations.

Kleen-Heet installations in flat buildings have economically solved the problem of expensive coal firing and ash disposal. Tenants prefer Kleen-Heeted buildings because they insure even, regular healthful heat.

Hospitals like Dr. Mitchell's Sanitarium at Peoria, Illinois, have found in Kleen-Heet that automatically controlled, even temperature so necessary to health-building.

Perfect Oil Heat

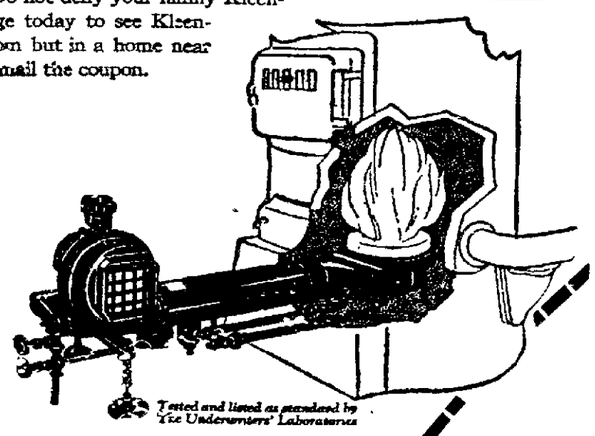

Kleen-Heet's exclusive method of vaporizing oil in its scientifically constructed fire pot insures instant combustion efficiency. No oil burner without such a fire pot can operate efficiently under automatic control. Kleen-Heet is made with either gas pilot or electric ignition. It is the simplest of all oil burners, instantaneous in action, completely automatic, scientifically correct. Protected by over 100 patents. It burns the cheapest grade of clean oil. Installation involves no change in your heating plant.

Kleen-Heet Users Are Your Best Advisers

You want oil heat, of course. But which oil burner? Let users answer that. Learn from them how Kleen-Heet has banished all heating worries. Learn why in Chicago—the home of the oil heating industry and the most competitive of all markets—more Kleen-Heets were installed last year than burners of any two other makes combined.

Then let us show you how quickly and simply Kleen-Heet can be installed in your present heating plant. How easy it is to buy. And how economical to own.

Settle this oil burner question now! Do not deny your family Kleen-Heet's comforts another winter. Arrange today to see Kleen-Heet at work—not only in our showroom but in a home near yours. No obligation. Just phone us or mail the coupon.

HEAR MANY AT PARDON BOARD

Total of Twenty-two Cases Disposed Of In Two Hours At Regular Meeting at Penitentiary Tuesday Morning.

200 SIGN PETITION FOR 71-YEAR OLD MAN

James W. Haygood Blames Bad Liquor and Associates For Trouble — Omaha Burglar With Long Record Is Heard.

Working fast for two hours Tuesday morning, the state board of pardons heard all of the twenty-two cases up before it and adjourned. Governor McMullen and Secretary Pool, the only two members present, were driven to an upstairs hall at the penitentiary by the crowds of sightseers and by the prison band, which was entertaining in the chapel.

Edward Downey from Omaha, who in the twenty-eight years of his life has gathered about fifteen police citations for a record, asked parole on his 1 to 10 year sentence. He and two other men were robbing the T. F. Stroud home in Omaha when surprised by the family. By threatening Mr. Stroud with a gun, they got away and took $300 worth of goods with them. Downey is tubercular and wants to leave for a more congenial climate.

Bad liquor and bad associates are blamed by authorities for the downfall of James W. Haygood of Alabama, who asked parole. His father is said to be a Montgomery publisher, and he himself is a telegraph operator and has had a couple of years in a university. While still in his teens he was working in the east, stole several hundred dollars from his employer, and started for Cheyenne, Wyo. The theft of goods from a suit case aboard the Pullman brought conviction in a Lincoln county court of grand larceny.

Other Applicants.

Others who came up for parole or commutation are:

Dewey Stillwell, 20, sentenced to a 2 to 15 year term in Gage county for attempted rape.

Gens Arnot and Glen Dunston, sent up from Buffalo county to serve a 1 to 2 year sentence for breaking and entering. They took a watch and some food from a farmer's home.

Edward J. McBride, 24, a Brewster man who was arrested eighteen months after the theft of a Ford roadster at North Platte. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a 1 to 2 year term for grand larceny.

Bryan Charlton, 21, another Omaha man charged with breaking and entering. He stole about $6 from the Palace Candy kitchen.

Glen Brinegar, 20, a Richardson county youth who took $450 from a Salem store while out on parole from Kearney.

Solomon Hardman, 71, janitor at the Butler county court house in David City for several years before he pleaded guilty to attempted rape of a 13-year-old girl, and received a 2 to 15 year sentence. A petition signed by 200 David City residents was presented in his behelf.

Charles Leonard Apger, 16, and John Romano, 19, two boys with rambling feet who strayed into Sutton from Des Moines, caught a ride with a Dr. Williams, and then ousted him from his auto by the use of a gun. They got 1 to 5 year sentences.

Two brothers, Alva and Henry Darby, both about 30 years old, who were sentenced fr. York county to 4 year terms for burglary. While working on Henry Rich's farm, it is said, they hauled off $70 worth of wheat and sold it. Both have families and say they needed the money.

John C. Morris, 36, convicted in Saunders county of sodomy and sentenced to a term of not more than 20 years. His victim was a boy at a Cedar Bluffs rooming house.

Three youths, Emery Darling, 21, Frank Horine, 25, and Byron Darling 19, from Washington county, where they stole chickens and sold them in Omaha for $24. The sentences imposed are 1 to 3 years.

Hugh Thompson, 42, Sheridan county, forgery, 1 to 20 years.

Thomas McDonald, Douglas county, breaking and entering, 1 to 10 years.

Blaine Sullivan, 35, Douglas county, forgery, 1 to 20 years, a parole breaker.

Henry Smitz, 36, Douglas county, robbery, 3 to 15 years. He pleaded guilty to holding up two Omaha street car conductors for $158.50.

Harry Hannah, 22, colored, Douglas county, breaking and entering, 3 to 5 years.

TULLAH, Tenn.—Mrs. Evelyn Burnette, of Nashville, Tenn., was killed yesterday when an automobile driven by her uncle, J. A. G. Sloan, president of the Nashville club of the Southern association, overturned on a curve of the Dixie highway near here. Mrs. Thomas Patten, another occupant of the car, was bruised.

Lemons Tighten Wrinkled Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest anti-wrinkle lotion to tighten relaxed skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crows-feet.
Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crowsfeet are smoothed out, giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh.
Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten sallow, tanned skin.
Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.—Advertisement.

Your Allure
Don't imperil it . . . some days
* * *
This NEW way solves women's oldest hygienic problem so never a day's charm is lost

BEING fresh and charming every day has ever been the average woman's problem.
But today . . . the modern woman meets it with a smile.
Science has supplanted the uncertainty of the old-time sanitary pad with protection that is absolute.
You wear your filmiest frocks, your summery things in confidence. You motor for hours, you dance, you dine; you come in contact with others without a second thought.
The name is Kotex . . . a method scientifically right.
It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.
It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—ending an old-time embarrassment.
It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense.
You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."
8 in every 10 women in the better walks of life have adopted it. Which proves its benefits.
It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.
KOTEX
DEODORIZED

1 Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorized.
2 No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.
3 Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped — help yourself, pay the clerk that is all.

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

A Horse Triangle.

Dear Minerva: My letter is in one way a triangular love affair but not in the way most of your letters are. This is a love affair of parents, daughter and her husband.

I have been married over six years and have made our home with my parents due to the fact that mother's health will not permit her to be left alone and being the only daughter we thought we would do that. There are two brothers still in high school due to the fact that I am a number of years older than they. I am thirty and they are still in their teens.

But this is the question. Shall we continue the same way or move out? My parents (whom I love as dearly as any daughter can) are not of the temperament at all as my husband (who I love as any wife should). They all get along fairly well, but Minerva I as the go-between, what of me? It seems as if when things come to a climax, which they do at times, that I will just go crazy.

I just set my mouth firmly and keep still, but it is breaking my heart and my nerves are always at high pitch. Now I wonder if it would seem cruel and hard-hearted if we would move out for the winter at least and give me a rest. I know it would make the boys realize more responsibility at home as I am more of a mother to them than a sister. It also would make my parents see how hard it really would be not to have "sis" at every call and to give up everything for others and take all the digs about the rest of the family.

Then not least by far I think it would make my husband realize the advantages he has here where I get our home and board for my work and care of mother.—DISCOURAGED.

A. I approve of your moving out and establishing a home for yourself. But not as an educational measure for any member of the family. Merely because you and your husband should have a home of your own and establish your own family. No matter how humble this home would be, it would be yours.

If your mother is helpless and needs care, your father should hire this for her. You could live near enough that you could run in every day and give your mother the inspiration of your companionship and see that she is comfortable and well cared for.

But you and your husband should have the quiet companionship which you cannot have living with others. Your husband can feel the pride of being head of his own household and master of his own destiny, which certainly must be denied him now.

A Bumptious Youth.

Dear Minerva: I have never written to you yet, but as we grow older we have to meet the problems of life, so I am going to ask you to print the answers to the following questions in the Lincoln Star as I do not wish to have my address published because my folks would rave at the idea of asking you for some advise instead of them.

Now dear Minerva here is the real question. I am seventeen and have fallen deeply in love with a girl on eyear my junior. My folks have started some "rank" (I don't know what other word to use) stories about her that I know are not true. They also tell me that I am to stop going with her at once. I have asked them to prove their stories but they only laugh and say that I am trying to shield her. My father has a car and I have to drive him and the rest of the family where ever they want to go but I can never have it to go for a little ride for myself and sweetheart. Shall I refuse to drive him around or what? My mother says it would break her heart to see me married to such a girl but I guess she never thinks that my heart would be in a thousand pieces if I were forced to give her up. We understand each other and have made a few plans for the journey through life. Now Dear Minerva shall we have our hearts broken by my folks or shall we follow the path that the Creator has started us on. Hoping that you will publish the best answer that you can, I am—AUGUST. (Thank you.)

A. You are a bumptious young junior and I hope your parents are wise enough and stern enough to steer you safely through this difficult course of your life's journey.

You are quite too young to marry. Too undeveloped to know the meaning of love and the responsibilities that it entails.

Many a love affair has started at seventeen which has later culminated in happy, fruitful marriage But such a "lived happily ever after" sequal to love's young dream comes only when the young lovers prove their love to themselves through years of waiting, when they not only plan their future but build and develop for that future.

Listen to your parents and wait a few years. If you still love this girl then, talk to them about it and you will find them more receptive to your plans.

Dear Minerva: I couldn't refrain from answering "The Old Shell." My blood boils when I hear these women sympathizing with husbands that love children but havent' any. I happen to be married to one of those abused husbands. He never misses a chance to make over children and says he would be the happiest man in the world if he had a family. I too love children but don't get any credit for it and am blamed by most of our friends for not having a family. The truth is Minerva the first year I was married we lost our baby on account of operations I have had due to the life he lived before we were married, we never can have a family. But what am I to do? I can't tell the world why my poor husband hasn't any children. It may be the same way with "Old Shell's" wonderful man. I think she had better stay where she is, if she is well provided for and has her health.

I have a lot of troubles of my own Minerva but I'll not trouble you with them just now. CHILDLESS, Why?

ought to tip him, but she did not have her purse with her.

Alone in her room she opened the parcel and the letters she had taken from the box. The small parcel was a pair of cut steel and rhinestone slipper buckles, accompanied by Mark Wentworth's card. Christmas cards from several friends—all bearing stereotyped greetings—constituted the rest of her mail.

She did not thrill to these as she would have done a year ago. She knew that Mark's gift was beautiful, yet it did not a rouse her enthusiasm.

She had had no word from Raphael Scott this morning. This was what dampened her Christmas ardor.

Her mind was full of him as she put on her hat and coat to go around to the hotel to dine with her mother. Perhaps Raphael was still sleeping. She wished that she could see him for just a moment. She longed to hear him say he liked the handkerchiefs she had embroidered for him. (To Be Continued.)

"The Iron Horse" Week's Attraction At Orpheum Theater

Not only "atmosphere" but reality is woven into the story that goes to make "The Iron Horse" which is being shown this week at the Orpheum theater.

There is just enough of the melodramatic in this photoplay to hold one's interest while the epic of steel rails rolls out across the prairies and bores through mountains. Chinese and Irishmen toil side by side or catch up a rifle now and then to knock off a few hostile "injuns." A two fingered villain makes it hot for the hero but at last while fighting as a renegade is choked to death most effectively.

Little expense was spared by the directors, it seems, to make details realistic. The two original engines that met at the joining place of the rails were used, and many other matters show constant attempts for veracity. One of the most potent appeals for audiences of this vicinity in that Nebraska towns, such as North Platte and Omaha, get their full share of glory in the picture.

Report Air Strength Low As Compared to England, France and Japan.

Expert Offers Views In Investigation Requested By Senator King.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—W. B. Shearer, experimental expert for the American navy during the World war, who has been investigation naval conditions on the Pacific coast at the request of Senator William H. King of Utah, last night made public a report on aviation affairs which he has forwarded to Senator King.

The reports revealed the United States air service's standing 16 per cent in size and effectiveness as compared with France and Japan, rated at 100 per cent each, and Great Britain 58 per cent.

The report, which also deals with the American army air strength in conjunction with navy, submits the following estimates as necessary to bring these services up to standard comparable to the air strength of foreign powers:

Officers, 4,000; men, 30,000; machines, 4,000.

Referring to the American navy's surface and submarine craft, which are declared to be essential to the country's defense in co-operation with the air, the report points out that of naval vessels in commission and reserve, Great Britain has 730, the United States 408 and Japan 306.

In the Pacific, it adds, the speed of the United States fleet is only sixteen knots as compared with Japan's twenty-two knots and declared that the greatest American naval guns are outranged 3,000 yards by the Japanese. The Shearer report, referring to Col. William Mitchell's attack on the army and navy air service, says:

"Colonel Mitchell brings out a vital point in his charges, namely that an air attack on this country would come via Alaska."

CHAPTER LXVIII.

It was nine o'clock on Christmas morning. A knock on her living-room door awoke Rhoda Thorne.

Slipping on her wrapper, she hurried across the floor and opened the door a little way. A messenger boy from the hotel across the square stood there, a letter in his hand.

"I was to give this to Miss Thorne and get an answer," he said.

The envelope was addressed in her mother's writing.

"Wait for a minute, while I read it," Rhoda ordered, closing the door.

Standing shivering in her bare feet, she tore open the envelope and read the brief question it contained:

"Dear Child: Will you dine with me at the hotel at two o'clock—unless you have some other engagement? Merry Christmas! Mother.

Rhoda thought swiftly. She had nothing else on hand—yet. She had hoped that someone would suggest a way of spending the hours that must pass before evening. As nothing had developed she would dine with her mother. Even if she received another invitation later, it was the decent thing to do. Her parent was apparently trying to adjust her ideas to those of her daughter. In return that daughter might at least try to humor her parent.

She opened the door. "Just say to Mrs. Thorne that I will be there at two o'clock," she told the messenger. "I will not keep you waiting while I write."

Then, closing and locking the door, she went back to bed and lay thinking.

Christmas morning! The first in her own little home. Yet it did not bring any thrill with it. She had been brought up to make much of the Day of Days. Down here the set in which she moved regarded it only as an ordinary holiday—like Fourth of July or Washington's birthday. She had smiled when she heard Willy Layton inveigh against the gift-making habit.

"Blackmail, I cal it!" she had declared.

Even Euphemia had not protested. Instead she had shrugged her shoulders and said that, since Rhoda was going to give a Christmas party, they ought all to be able to live through the day.

"The evening will make up for the stupidity of the morning and afternoon," she declared. "And one can always sleep—and work."

Raphael then nodded his approval of this idea. He was probably asleep still. He had entered into Rhoda's plans for her celebration only to prevent her from being homesick and to help make her affair a success.

Well, it was dear of him. The girl, lying musing on these things, wished he felt about Christmas as she had always felt. Yet probably his viewpoint was the same one. Such being the case, it was all the sweeter of him to sympathize with her feeling, to bring her a little tree, and mistletoe, and boughs of hemlock—such as she had always had at home.

She closed her eyes and thought of past Christmases in Hillsdale. She saw in fancy the snow glisten, heard the greetings of neighbors as they met in the church vestibule. For, of course, up there people went to church on Christmas Day. How her mother must be missing it!

But of course, her mother would go to church even here. Strange she had not suggested that her daughter accompany her! In Hillsdale she had always told Rhoda that she wished her to attend service on Christmas morning.

But that had been Hillsdale, and her child had been under her care and direction. Now the parent appreciated that the daughter was grown, had a life of her own to live, and was not to be bound by the traditions of her childhood. It was well that she did appreciate this since Rhoda intended to do as she pleased.

A cup of coffee was all she took for her breakfast today. She knew she would have a hearty dinner at the hotel.

When she had dressed, she set her room in order, dusting it carefully that it might look spick and span for to-night.

There was but one mail delivery this morning. She had heard the postman ring the bell as he had deposited her letters in the box in the vestibule. She had not troubled herself to go down for them. But now she heard her bell ring again and the postman's whistle in the lower hall. Evidently there was a special delivery or some registered mail.

She ran down and received a tiny box from the postman. She wished him a merry Christmas as she signed for it. She wondered if she

Soft Water~Soft Hands

WASH dishes the Climalene way; the hard water that chaps tender hands is changed to gentle softness; soaps and scouring powders are not necessary; and so quickly is the task done that your hands are in the water only half as long as usual.

The dishes too respond to Climalene treatment. Skillets, pots and pans are quickly restored to brightness. There is nothing like Climalene to cut the grease. Even badly burned dishes are cleaned with surprising ease by soaking them in hot water to which a little Climalene has been added.

The sheen that Climalene's magic leaves on fine china, the sparkle of the cut glass, the gleam of the silver—these are proofs of Climalene's power that give a thrill of pleasure to the proud housewife.

Climalene does MORE than soften water

But I never dreamed you could use it for dainty lingerie!

OF course I've always used Climalene in the kitchen, and kept a package on the pantry shelf along with the "sugar and spice and everything nice".

But somehow I never thought of using Climalene in the laundry, for those delicate chiffons, crepes and dainty things that I always do myself. When a leaflet came from the Climalene folks, telling me about Climalene for fine fabrics, I had enough faith in them to try it—and it's even more wonderful than they say it is.

I've found another use for Climalene, too. I have never found anything like it for cleaning woodwork and tile. It beats strong soaps for cleansing, and it doesn't hurt the hands nor spoil the paint or varnish. Just drop a little Climalene in a pail of water and try it.

Lingerie—woodwork—and the bath! Climalene is versatile, because it softens water harmlessly, and cleans easily. If you like a good "sudsy" bath, Climalene will delight you. Just a little in the tub works wonders, gives the soap a chance, and to the revel of a soft-water bath adds this glory—that the tub is left spotless, with no ring of grime to be scoured afterwards.

OUR NATIONAL HEROES.

The Omaha World-Herald in an appealing story relates that the grave of Merle D. Hay, one of the first three American soldiers killed in the world war, has passed to obscurity in the little cemetery at Glidden, Ia., where his body was consigned to its last resting place, with much pomp and ceremony at the close of hostilities.

Four years later a group of veterans had difficulty in locating the tiny marble slab which marks the location of Hay's grave. It is on the outer fringe of the burial grounds, with a 18-inch marble slab at the head, bearing this inscription: "Merle D. Hay, 1896-1917—Company F., First Division, 16th inf."

What a forgetful nation America is!

Looking back on those years when hundreds of thousands of American men were preparing to take their places in the grim struggle which was being waged along the western battlefront, there will be few who will forget the thrill which came with the news that Merle Hay, a private, Thomas Enright, of Pittsburg, a private and Corporal J. B. Gresham, of Evansville, Ind., had been killed in action. They were the first three American boys to make the supreme sacrifice. We had been waiting for news of this sort for some weeks, although the movements of the American troops had been carefully guarded. Without warning its sinister challenge rang throughout America. Then we knew that from then on more and more of the sorrowful casualty lists could be expected.

When Merle Hay's body was brought back to his home community for burial four years after the surprise attack in the front line trenches of Lorraine, the eyes of a nation turned to Glidden for a single day. We vowed that upon the spot where his ashes were returned to the soil we would build a magnificent monument to the memory of Hay and those who followed him. Thousands attended the ceremonies and for a day we paid tribute to the Iowan so signally distinguished. And then we forgot our fine resolutions.

The parents of Merle Hay had been told not to attempt to provide a monument for his grave. It was a duty which the community, the county and the state and nation wanted to perform. Mother and father waited patiently and then in the passing months purchased a small marker from their meager earnings. Merle D. Hay post of the Legion provided the small bronze star which is its distinguishing marker.

Ah, forgetfulness!

As a people we want to forget the sorrow and grief of war. These memories are unpleasant and disturbing. There was a time when our spirits mounted high, our sympathies were a strong and tender, our hearts full of compassion for those who suffered. In the high tide of sacrifice and devotion, no nation reached the exalted heights to which American sentiment soared. In 1898 when the burdens of Cuba and the Philippines lay heavily upon our hearts we thought we were conscious of our responsibilities to humanity. But the magnificent altruistic spirit which carried us into a war with Spain did not measure with the consecration and devotion which sent American boys into battle in France.

In a very short time the American Legion will hold its national convention in Omaha. Thousands of these same young men who crossed the seas to bare their breasts in the successful fight to stay the march of imperialism will be gathering in the Nebraska metropolis. No finer thing could come out of this Legion convention that a determination to provide suitable markers for the graves of Merle Hay and his two associates who died in the first fighting of the world war. If this is done, the Legion will have to assume responsibility for its doing. As a nation we are too inclined to forget our national heroes. We must not be permitted to forget.

IDLE MINERS AND TOILING CHILDREN.

Two news items from the anthracite coal strike region, published simultaneously the other day, seemed to suggest that a reversion to customs and modes of life which prevailed in this country before the white men settled it is taking place in some parts of it.

One account told of school superintendents in the anthracite territory being besieged with applications for permits allowing young children to stay out of school in order that they might take jobs to help support their families. The other described the flocking of idle coal miners to stores dealing in fishing paraphernalia and purchasing rods, hooks and lines with which to go off and indulge themselves in angling sport for a few weeks, until the mines open up again. Some are even going on long sightseeing tours by automobile, the dispatch stated.

If the children can be put to work while their fathers are away enjoying vacation outings, things ought to run along much as they did, among the Indian tribes when the United States was still a wilderness. It used to be quite the proper thing for stalwart redskin bucks to spend their time fishing and hunting while the squaws, aided by the boys and girls, did all the menial work.

In these days, however, there would seem to be something lacking in the makeup of a man who could feel contented to go away on a pleasure trip while his family at home were facing the prospect of want and his children had to stay out of school to work and earn money for the replenishment of the household larder. Certainly that is not the kind of laboring men we know in this section of the country. The mining population of Pennsylvania is made up largely of foreign elements from southern Europe, whose notions of the duty which the head of a family owes his wife and his offspring do not entirely coincide with the American conception of it.

Probably the conditions referred to are not greatly different from those which have prevailed at more or less frequent intervals in the past. Coal strikes have been rather plentiful in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields, and the miners have not been used to working more than 8 or 9 months each year. In 1925, as it happened, they were furnished fairly steady employment all through the summer and up to the 1st of September. Perhaps they thought it was about time to take their accustomed vacation, trusting to their leaders to force another wage increase out of operators, who in that event would, of course, seek to recoup themselves by raising the price of fuel to the public.

There has been much denunciation of factory owners who employ children in their plants. Most of the criticism has come from the ranks of organized labor. But it seems that no prejudice against putting children out to work and thus interfering with their education exists in the anthracite fields. That seems to be regarded as a matter of course whenever the heads of families choose to quit their jobs.

Perhaps Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who poses as a champion of education and humanity, will find some way to get the boys and girls out of the factories and back into the schools, where they belong. He certainly should do everything in his power toward that end.

BIG SUM FOR TAXES.

During the fiscal year of 1923-4 the people of the United States paid eleven and one-half per cent of their total income for taxes to the federal, state and other governmental bodies, according to figures compiled by the national industrial conference board. This is almost double the proportion paid ten years ago, the figures for the year 1913-14 being six and four-tenths per cent. However, this country is much better off in this respect than any of its allies in the war against the central powers. The people of Great Britain last year paid 23.2 per cent of their income for taxes, France paid 20.9 per cent, Italy paid 19.2 per cent and Belgium paid 17 per cent.

The conference board finds that this country has another great advantage over its allies in that the greater portion of its net revenue is expended in providing education for its people, in providing good roads, parks, public buildings and other lasting improvements, while that of the European countries goes toward paying for past wars.

The total amount of taxes collected in this country for 1923-4 was $7,716,000,000, while for the last prewar year the amount was only $2,194,000,000. The decreased purchasing power of the dollar must be taken into consideration, however, in making comparisons, and when this is done the increase is found to be only two and three-quarters in the ten year period.

Per capita tax both in the United States and Great Britain has doubled in the last ten years when figured in the purchasing power of the dollar. In the last named country taxation amounts to $58.40 for each person, while in this country it is only $45 20, which is of course a great plenty. In France each person pays $29.53, which is only $5 more than was collected before the war. In Belgium the tax has increased from $11.39 to $17.76 per person, while in Italy it remains the same as it was ten years ago, $14 28.

While the people of this country are taxed more heavily than those of most other nations, there can be no doubt they are much more able to pay than the others and they are getting much more for their money.

BIDDING FOR BUSINESS.

Nebraska railroads Monday demonstrated that it is possible to buck the automobile, which has been making fearful inroads in the passenger business. By holding out low rate inducements, carriers brought largest crowds in recent years to the Nebraska state fair. All of the roads doing business in this state made special concessions to those who wished to visit the fair. The lowest rate was that offered by the Northwestern, which made a 1-cent fare. The trains which came in over Northwestern lines were well filled.

The evidence that lower rates will tend to redeem a lot of the business which the carriers lost to the automobile is not confined solely to Nebraska and to the State Fair. Chicago newspapers made much of the fact that excursion rates for Labor Day crowds brought such a jam that the carriers were unable to handle the business. An especially low rate from Chicago to Omaha brought out so many that 500 people were unable to secure accommodations for the trip. Attractive rates from Kansas City and other points to Denver forced the carriers to add extra cars and even then all who wanted to go could not find places.

In view of the application of the western roads for an increase in rates, it will be well for the officials to carefully consider the facts. The higher rates in the past, it has been said, were occasioned because of the drop in the volume of traffic. But strangely, each increase in rates seems to have diminished the passenger and freight business. Automobile trucks have been getting a lot of the short haul business. Automobiles have been carrying hundreds of thousands of tourists. In many instances people who would have preferred to travel by train have taken their cars because they believe it is cheaper. Before raising rates the carriers should try to retrieve some of the lost business by making it profitable to use the railroad facilities.

THE AIRPLANE AGAINST ABD-EL-KRIM.

Advocates of the airplane as a means of national defense can derive satisfaction from the latest reports of Abd-El-Krim's determination to seek peace with France and Spain.

It was the French air forces which brought the haughty Riffian chieftain to his knees. Abd-El-Krim was a real menace to Spain and France until the French military were able to effectively organize their air forces. The Riffians, accustomed to the warfare of the hills country, and outnumbering the French and Spanish very materially, were in a position of advantage six weeks ago. The Riffians were being reenforced constantly by desertions from native tribes which had heretofore been nominally friendly to the French.

Then came the French airmen.

The Riffians were able to match courage and arms with the footsoldiers. But they could not fight an enemy which they could not reach and which could pour down a leaden rain on their camps and their outposts. It was a new and terrible experience for the desert warriors. No amount of persausion from Abd-El-Krim could rally the forces which had enlisted under his banner. His men were ready and willing to die in a battle where chances were equal. But they refused to be snuffed out like rats from attacks overhead.

Against a primitive foeman, lacking the equipment of modern warfare, the airplane has more than justified itself. It has also demonstrated that there is no defense from attack by the air but the use of the same weapon.

More Truth Than Poetry

FAILING PATIENCE.

I'm wearied by much waiting;
At first I waited long,
Impatient for the glory
Of being big and strong;
When I was ten I envied
The hero of fifteen;
Through youth's dull seasons creeping,
I wanted to be leaping
The distances between.

When first I loved, her glances
Were for an older boy;
Fate left me waiting sadly
To claim a future joy;
My dearly earned promotions
Have all been long delayed;
"Wait," Pleasure keeps repeating,
And Time keeps on defeating
The plans that I have made.

My fondest expectations
Have had to be resigned;
Too often my tomorrows
Are empty or unkind.
'Tis long since promised kisses
Have tasted sweet to me;
The future may be gleaming,
But I am sick of dreaming
Of joy that is to be.

Kind, fortune, cease to promise,
And come across today,
For I have grown mistrustful
And weary of delay.
None but the undertaker
Can cheer my present state—
Which happens to be gloomy—
By preaching patience to me
And asking me to wait.

"SLEEPING SICKNESS."

There are two distinct diseases known to the laity by this name. The first recognized of these diseases is formidably designated "trypanosmiasis." It is caused by a fly which distributes the infection in Central Africa, among negro natives. It rarely attacks Caucasians.

This "sleeping sickness" is gradual in its onset, and aside from the mental dullness, is totally unlike the form which occurs in this country.

Since 1918, a number of so-called "sleeping sickness" cases appeared in the United States. This disease of the central nervous system is known as epidemic encephalitis.

Occasionally, a news article heralds its appearance in some locality, sometimes attacking two or three in the same house. About 25 per cent of those developing this disease dia. Males and females are about equally affected.

Sleeping sickness may develop in a few hours, or there may be premonitory symptoms for as long as a week, before its character is recognized. These premonitory symptoms are chiefly headache, mental apathy, stiffness of the back, and diffuse body pains.

The lethargic mental state is present in four out of five cases, and it may arise from a feeling of mental "heaviness," to coma. There is almost invariably double vision and dropping of the upper eyelids, and the pupils are of unequal size. Some of the facial muscles are paralyzed, giving the victim a dull uncomprehending look. Often, the tongue muscles are affected and the patient finds it hard to speak clearly. Difficulty in using the legs and arms sometimes is present.

The duration of the disease is seldom over 8 or 10 weeks and frequently is as short as 2 weeks. We know that it is contagious but just how, is yet uncertain, so the usual precautions which govern contagious diseases should be observed.

There are a number of diseases which so resemble epidemic encephalitis, that only a professional man is capable of making its diagnosis, but there is little doubt that it is a comparatively new infection in the United States.

If you've just the symptoms of lethargy and are in apparent good health otherwise, a little will power will probably effect a cure. You may be just lazy instead of sick.

Questions and Answers.

Questions and answers may be addressed to Dr. Perry in care of this newspaper.

Question.—Cna you tell me how to improve the condition of my 8 year old son. He is pale, thin, and tires easily, although he isn't what I call sickly.

Answer.—He may be one of millions of children suffering from malnutrition, due probably to the the wrong kind of food. Make sure that he drinks at least a quart of milk a day, and work plenty of green vegetables and fruits into his diet. These things will supply vitamins and mineral salts that he probably has not been getting. Malnutrition is something caused by nasal obstruction, decayed teeth, lack of sufficient rest and fresh air, and even by worry and unhappiness.

In a Devonian Forest

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS,
Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

My boyhood was passed within sound of the roar of Schoharie creek (which in any other country than America, with vast standards of size, would be called a river), and I have therefore a personal interest and pride in the fact that the valley of Schoharie creek has furnished the fossil trees for the only restoration of a geologically ancient forest that the museums of modern science yet possess. Every vistor to New York's capital city should see this unique sight. Entering a hall of the State Museum, if he has the slightest gift of imagination he will find himself carried back millions of years into the scenery of the Devonian age. In the foreground the actual fossils of the trunks, branches, roots, leaves, and seed-organs of those ancient trees stand before his eyes, tangible, convincing, like pharonic mummies disinterred from the pre-human world; and behind them, wonderfully reproduced in form, color and atmosphere streches the panorama of the great Devonian forest, as the eye of science has been able to restruct it.

It is called the "Gilboa Forest," for where it once grew the village of Gilboa for many years listened to the ever-changing voice of the tortuous Schoharie, and admired the flash of silver-sided fish in its summer pools, with no premonition of the great dam—the drinking-cup of the mighty city a hundred miles away by the sea—which was to come and swallow the mountain-born waters of the little river as if it were only a wayside spring.

Characteristic of the bed and rocky banks of the Schoharie is the abundance of black shale, or slate, lying in stratifications like piled up sheets, and forming in many places loftly precipituous shores and flat, floor-like expanses covered in tranquil reaches of the the river, with water three or four feet deep, and as uniform in depth as a bathing-pool. But often these places are bordered by vertical edges that drop down into invisibility, where the water looks inky black because of its depth. Sometimes these deep places cut into the border of the shallow bottom with a sharp triangle of blackness, which sends a thrill through the heart of the swimmer who suddenly finds it taking the place of the smooth floor that had been within reach of his feet.

These shales are filled with fragile fossils, and in places contain beautifully formed buttons of pyrites. They once constituted the soil in which the ancient forest grew. Dr. John M. Clarke, the director of the state museum, who, I grieve to say, died on May 30, only about three months after the opening of the wonderful exhibit that he had created, has briefly told the story of the Gilboa Forest in these words:

"They were majestic trees, simple in structure, resembling closely the tree ferns of the present tropical jungles, but singularly enough an advance in structure over these tree ferns by virtue of their seed-bearing devices.

"The Gilboa forests grew along the low shores of the western Catskill mountain region, facing the interior sea which at that period covered all of Central and western New York. They grew in marshes or jungles along these lowlands, which were easily covered by the rise of the tides.

"The atmosphere of these coastal marshes must have been dank and heavy, and the rays of the sun sifted down among them only with softened light. Along with these Gilboa trees, which have now been given the name of Eospermatopteris, grew a few other plants, some simpler ferns and a strange lycopodium tree, Protolepidordendron, or the Naples tree, as it has come to be commonly known."

It is an important part of life for us to see these things and to ruminate the thoughts that they awaken. This resurrected forest at Albany will be a noble monument to John Mason Clarke. In it he has established a school as powerful as a university.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

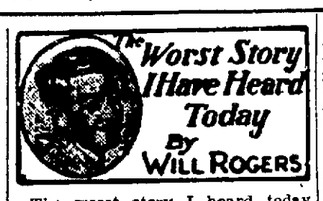

Awful Pains and Misery Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"I want to tell you how your medicine has helped me. For weeks I suffered with awful pains from inflammation and I was in such misery that I had to bend double to get relief. I could not be touched or jarred, had awful pain all over my abdomen and couldn't touch my feet to the floor. It was impossible for me to straighten up and the pains never ceased. I took treatments for some time and finally was told I would have to have an operation. I do not believe in operations and I had read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I told my husband I would try it before I gave up. I soon began to feel that it was doing me good. The awful misery began to leave me, also the backache. I have a good appetite and am gaining in weight. Taking this medicine was the best thing I ever did. I feel like it has saved my life and I do not hesitate to say so to my friends. It has saved me from a dreaded operation and I am still taking it."—Mrs. ETHEL THURSTON, 324 North Pine St., Lima, Ohio.

The Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By Will Rogers

The worst story I heard today was told to me by Joe Bartles of Dewey, Okla. Joe and his father are the ones that founded Bartlesville, Okla., a town 40 miles northwest of Claremore, Okla., the world's greatest health resort. Joe is part Cherokee and part Delaware Indian. He stages the big rodeo or roundup at Dewey every year. When you win there you get your money and I don't mean "perhaps." Well, Joe is just about the most noted Indian we got down in our parts, and he tells me this story:

Two darky boys met on the streets of Dewey both wearing a new suit.

"Nigger, how much they set you back for dem clothes?" says one.

"Forty dollars," says the other.

"Forty dollars? Say, I got on a suit mos' like yours and it jes' cos' me $10. Somebody sho done stung you."

The possessor of the $40 suit took hold of one of the coat sleeves of the $10 suit and pulled on it and it stretched. Then he said. "See here, boy, the fust big rain you all gets ketched out in, dat coat of yourn is going to say 'Good bye Nigger, from now on I'se jes' going to be yo vest."

Some darky pulled that. No white man ever thought of a thing like that. When you come to look at some of the suits that the young fellows are wearing nowadays, where they used all the material in the legs of the pants and had none left for the coat, they look just about like the darkey's coat if rain had hit it. I don't see how the boys ever find their legs in those pants when they go to take 'em off! (Copyright, 1925. The McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Briefly Told News From The Wires

BATAVIA, N. Y.—Three persons were killed and one injured Monday when a westbound New York Central passenger train struck an automobile at a grade crossing near Godfreys Pond, five miles east of hee.

WASHINGTON—Completion of a report on the social consequences of prohibition into United States was announced Monday by the department of research and education of the Federal Council of Churches. Conclusions of the report were withheld pending its publication next week, but the study was described as a review of votal statistics, crime, living conditions and related subjects as affected by prohibition.

PARIS—The aviators La Porte and Prio and their three mechanics had been missing forty-eight hours Monday since their disappearance in the seaplane trials from Corsica to Straphael, on the southeastern coast of France.

PARIS—Four thousand persons strove so strenuously Sunday night to gain entrance to the already packed hall where the International Spiritualistic congress was holding its opening sessions that police reserves were called to maintain order. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was the principal speaker and most of those attending were more interested in seeing the creator of Sherlock Holmes than spirits. The audience did not spare jocular comments when lantern slides of "spirit photographs" went wrong, as they did frequently in the hands of an unskilled operator.

MONTCLAIR, N. J.—In Montclair Monday funeral services were held for one of Harrison Noel's victims, Raymond Pierce, negro chauffeur. Meanwhile the parents of Mry Daly were making arrangements for the funeral services of their child. The boy's mother, Anne W. Noel, who is said to be prostrated and under a physician's care, issued this statement: "It is impossible to find words with which to express my grief and sincere sympathy for the bereaved family."

SHANGHAI—The international settlements were quiet this morning in contrast to Monday's riot in which three Chinese were shot by the police. As precaution against further disorder the police reserves have been ordered out and the Shanghai volunteer corps is standing by.

WASHINGTON—American holders of German industrial bonds are required to notify issuing concerns in Germany of their securities and file proof of their ownership on or before December 28, 1925. The purpose of the registration, announced Monday by the German embassy here is to make effective the revaluation of industrial securities provided for in the law enacted July 16, 1925.

PITTSBURGH—Fifty-three Chinese, arrested Sunday night in raids in Chinatown when another flare-up of tong warfare was threatened, were held over for further investigation after a hearing in police court yesterday. A charge of conspiracy to kill Yee Won Wah a Chinese merchant, was made against Yee Chue Lan and two other Chinese attempted to assassinate Wah, but were frightened away by a girl's scream. The general cleanup raid of the Chinatown section by a squad of detectives followed.

It acts on new principles. In a few days you can work a transformation on your teeth. Can change your whole appearance.

Now a 1-day test is being offered. Just send the coupon.

It's just a film that mere brushing won't combat.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel a film . . . a slippery, vicious coating that dulls and clouds their beauty.

Ordinary methods won't successfully combat it. That's why, no matter how hard you try now, your teeth remain "off color."

Remove that film and what you see will amaze you. You are simply hiding their beauty now . . . just like dingy grime on ivory.

New methods Whiten teeth, Firm the Gums

Film is charged, too, with most tooth and gum troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the million multiply in it and lay your teeth open to decay. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old methods failed in combating it successfully. Then new ones were found and embodied in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent.

It acts to curdle the film and then remove it. Then to firm the gums and protect them.

Send Coupon.

Results are quick and convincing. Largely on dental advice the world has turned to this new method.

A few days' use will amaze you. The difference will be noticeable. You will note it. Those with whom you come in contact will note it. You owe clear teeth to yourself. Send the coupon before you forget.

EXAMINE BABIES AT STATE FAIR

Infinite Variety In Appearance and Characteristics Of Infants.

Seventy Little Ones Pass Through Hands Of Judges On Tuesday.

Babies, babies, babies—boy babies, and girl babies, but allll better babies. If you would peep into the examining room you would find just nicely plump babies and fat babies, babies with blue eyes and brown eyes and black eyes and even green eyes, babies with lots of hair and babies with just wee tufts of soft down, but all babies with squirmy pink toes and tiny noses and dimples in their elbows and knees. Some are chucking, some gurgling, some crying as if their little hearts were broken, some grouchy, some amiable and willing to make friends and some flirting with the little boys in the waiting room.

A few are boisterous, a few timid who hide their faces in their mothers shoulders and there are some who feel very much at home and toddle and stumbled around quite complacently going up to other little folks and looking them over, their stiff organdy bonnets and much frilled frocks. Others try out the tiny chairs provided for them, play with mother's handkerchief or lug around her pocketbook which is generally about as big as they are. But they are all good—they couldn't be anything but that, for each young infant is the sunshine of some mother's heart. A few cannot understand why they have to be measured so many times and they are not slow in showing their lack of appreciation while others are much interested in the process and take it all in with curiosity.

There were seventy babies examined Monday, four were enrolled that did not appear. The officials expected the same number today to be examined. The number examined is composed of half boys and half girls, half being from the country and half from the city. Miss Clara Wilson of the University of Nebraska, is the child psychologist and is in charge of the mental testing. Dr. J. A. Henske of Omaha takes the place of Dr. H. B. Hamilton Tuesday and Dr. J. M. Woodard of Lincoln takes the place of Dr. F. F. Teal. Dr. W. O. Colburn is also a physical examiner; Dr. Louis F. Meier, dentist; Dr. Laura Platz and Dr. Daisy Hanson, weighing and measuring.

Thursday Clinic.

Thursday from 10 o'clock to 2:30 o'clock the clinic for defective children under twelve years of age will be held. Dr. William Englebach of St. Louis, a noted orthopedic surgeon and an authority on ductless glands, and Dr. H. M. McClanahan of Omaha, a child specialist, will be in charge of the clinic. Forty-five children have been enrolled in the clinic at the present time. The clinic is open to mentally and physically defective children.

There were fifty-two babies enrolled in the nursery Monday under direction of Miss Mable Robinson and one hundred and fifty-two were registered in the emergency hospital in charge of Dr. J. G. Loomis and Dr. Arnold.

The Camp Fire girls and Boy Scouts have been doing excellent work in finding lost children and acting as ushers around the hospital.

A parade will be held on the race track Thursday and it is planned to have the babies in the Better Babies' contest appear in this.

Chief of Police Of Kearney After Bad Check Writers

(Special to The Star)

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 8.—As a rule when a "no-fund" or overdrawn account check is placed into circulation, the merchant who was stung appeals to the police department and wants the writer brought to justice. When he is apprehended and proposes to make good the worthless paper, the threatened charges are dropped. In other words the police department acts as a collection agency on bad paper.

Chief of Police Quiggle, tiring of the lack of prosecution, announces that in the future he plans to give check writers some publicity, hoping perhaps to cure them and at the same time familiarize all with the names of those who engage in this process of getting by. He intends to post all bad checks in a window at police headquarters, where all may read and heed.

WILL HIRE CLERK FOR RELIEF FUND

American Legion Appoints Committee to Select Paid Administrator.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the state department of the American legion Monday afternoon at the Lindell hotel the hiring of a chief clerk to care for the routine of the state relief fund before the committee was authorized. The clerk will be paid $200 per month out of which he will pay for his stenographic help.

Department Commander J. R. of Madison presided, and with Frank Perkins of Fremont and Frank O'Connell of Lincoln, was named as the head of a committee to name the clerk and arrange for an office. It was thought the office would be located in Lincoln. Heretofore a part of time clerk has been employed.

The committee also authorized the payment of $3,400 to J. Ed. C. Fisher of Beatrice from the state funds for his handling of the relief work.

Earl J. Moyer of Madison was chosen state judge advocate and Charles Sherman of Lincoln, department sergeant at arms.

Adoption of the covered wagon as the Legion emblem at the Omaha convention was approved and plans made to have an old fashioned prairie schooner in line along with floats from the posts of the state emblematic of the early history of Nebraska. In other years an ear of corn has designated Nebraska at the convention.

L. E. Chadderdon of Holdrege was appointed senior vice commander.

PROTEST PAYING GASOLINE TAX

Commissioners Declare Municipality Exempt Under Charter Provisions.

Many Contracts are Awarded At Regular Meeting Tuesday.

Protesting against the payment of a gasoline tax on gasoline used in municipal motor equipment and the awarding of thirteen contracts aggregating $65,536.80 for laying of water mains, building sewers and paving construction in streets and alleys, took up a major part of the time Monday of the city council.

In protesting the payment of the gas tax the city allowed the amount due the gasoline bureau for August, withholding the sum covering the 5,527 gallons of gas used in the city equipment. The action is likely to result in the filing of a friendly suit by either the gasoline bureau or the city. It is claimed by the city that under the provision of the state constitution exempting municipalities from tax, the city does not have to pay the 2 cents per gallon.

Honor Victims Of Shenandoah

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(A. P.)—The aftermath of inquiry and criticism which has followed the loss of the Shenandoah held the attention of officials today as Arlington cemetery offered honored repose for four victims of the disaster.

Funeral services for Lieut. Com. Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the ill-fated ship, were arranged for the afternoon in the chapel at Fort Myers, Va., near the cemetery, with a full military escort accompanying the body to the grave. A morning hour was fixed for the separate services at the grave for Lieut. Com. Louis Hancock, Lieut. J. B. Lawrence and Lieut. E. W. Sheppard.

Secretary Wilbur had before him today an informal report by Rear Admiral C W. Dyson, who made an independent investigation for the secretary, in which he held the failure of diagonal bracing in the Shenandoah's frame to have been largely responsible for her collapse. His study showed that some of this bracing, which gives the ships its longitudinal strength, had pulled loose from its supports.

Denver Regains Lead in Western League Race

BEARS JUMP BACK TO TOP POSITION

Denver Wins One Game From Links and Steps Ahead Of Des Moines.

Second Game In Bear Camp Called In Tenth With Score Tied.

STATE FAIR WEEK BASEBALL.

Two Western league ball games are on the book for state fair week in Lincoln. The Links and the pennant-chasing Des Moines Demons will clash Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at Landis Field. A Thursday morning game, getting under way at 10 o'clock, wil conclude the program of state fair baseball.

Lawrence F. Arnold of Los Angeles, owner of the Lincoln Western league club and franchise, joined the Links Tuesday in Denver and will accompany the team on the return trip from Colorado, arriving here Wednesday. Boss Larry's mission at this time is to plan for 1926.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 8.—The Bears regained leadership in the Western league race yesterday by winning the first game of the Labor Day twin bill with the Links, 7 to 5, and going into a ten-inning tie at 6 to 6 in the second contest. As Des Moines dropped two games to Omaha yesterday, the Grizzlies have a one-point margin over the Demons in the percentage table.

The Links played errorless ball back of Wilson and Pallas in the curtain-lifter and had the edge in hitting with 13 safe blows to Denver's nine, but the Bears forged to the front by virtue of clouting for extra bases. The Links spurted in the ninth and scored two runs, but still were short of knotting the count.

Pillette Goes the Route.

Pillette pitched the full ten innings for the Links in the afterpiece, while Freeman started and Hall finished, the latter doing his first pitching since the middle of August. The Bears were making pace at 6 to 3 until the seventh, when the Links rallied and tied the score. Tight pitching in the pinches prevented subsequent run-making and Umpire Johnson called the game on account of darkness at the end of the tenth.

Umpire Held on Job.

Milt Anfenger, owner of the Denver club, failed to make good on his threat that Umpire Held would not be permitted to set foot in the Denver park. Held, who gave Anfenger a stiff punching Sunday in Lincoln after the club owner had hit him with a pop bottle, officiated during both games. The scores:

France Meets Uncle Sam In Tennis Finals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(A. P.)—Two sons of France yesterday won the right to challenge America for the Davis cup, symbol of international tennis supremacy. The tri-color representatives eliminated Australia from the competition and as a result will meet the United States team in the challenge round on the turf courts of the Germantown cricket club Philadelphia, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Jean Borotra of France, Wimbledon champion in 1924, lifted the tri-color to its place in the challenge round by scoring the third victory of the tournament for his nation when he stroked his way to a smashing victory over Gerald Patterson of Australia on the grass courts of the Westside Tennis club, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

Luck Broke Hard Against Bobby Jones

BY AL DEMAREE.

Had Bobby Jones not won the 1923 open championship at Inwood, Long Island, he surely would have gotten one of the toughest breaks on record. This with all due credit to Bobby Cruickshank.

For some reason, only a comparative handful of people seem to heard the true story of why Jones failed to win the title in the regular play and so had to go into a play-off with Cruickshank.

To begin with, if he could have done the last hole in par, he would have had a total of 294 and no one could possibly have caught him. But after a good drive, he hooked his second shot into a crowd at the left of the green. His ball came to a stop directly underneath a chain which had been strung around three sides of an adjoining tee to keep spectators back.

There was quite a discussion as to what to do with the chain, which had been installed merely during the tournament—officials finally concluding that it should be cut. This used up more time. Meanwhile, Bobby was cooling off and thinking more and more about the short pitch to the green which confronted him. It wasn't a hard shot, but the long wait had unsettled him and his effort was weak and landed in the trap.

A five would have settled the championship, and even as it was, Cruickshank tied him only by a superhuman three. But Jones shook his jinx and won in the playoff. (Copyright, 1925, Associated Editors, Inc.)

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Oilers put it over Wichita in both ends of yesterday's holiday doubleheader, winning by scores of 6 to 5 and 8 to 7. The second game went ten innings, the Oilers counting two runs in the extra frame after the Izzies had scored one. The scores:

RAIN HALTS STATE FAIR AUTO RACES

Downpour Horned In Monday After Putman Had Won First Event.

Rain, which delayed the auto racing card at the state fair Monday for two hours, finally washed away the opening day track card of the Nebraska exposition.

In an effort to get the state fair oval in trim for the speed demons, the management treated the circuit to a generous sprinkling. A brisk shower during the noonhour turned the track into a sea of mud and a crowd of over ten thousand, which jammed the big grandstand and overflowed into paddock and center field, waited until 4 o'clock when the first race was called.

Fred Putman in his Wisconsin Special won the first event—a five mile test—when he sikdded his car around the turns in 6 minutes 20 seconds.

Just as the second event was called, the rain clouds broke and a heavy downpour sent the crowd scurrying to cover.

Senators Victor In Double Bill With Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Any lingering doubts that the banner of American league supremacy would perch atop the Washington stronghold for the second successive year was removed yesterday when the Senators dealt two stunning blows to the Athletics, the team which until its sudden downfall fought a nip and tuck battle with the world's champions for the peak.

The double defeat by scores of 2 to 1 and 7 to 6, virtually elimin ted the struggling Mackmen from the race. They are now nine full games behind the titleholders.

A gathering of 70,000 fans came out to see the Athletics take their last stand. They saw them put up a sensational fight for both games only to make costly mistakes at vital moments that tossed away chances for victory.

Walter Johnson, out-pitching "Lefty" Groves, turned in the morning triumph for the Senators, but only after he had withstood a spectacular ninth-inning rally. Johnson himself led the attack and scored the Senators' first run.

The second game started out as a spitball battle between two veterans, Stanley Coveleskie and Jack Quinn. But neither withstood the bombardment. By innings:

Detroit and Browns Split.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Detroit divided a holiday doubleheader with St. Louis, winning the first game, 7 to 6, by a ninth-inning rally, and dropping the afternoon game, 4 to 3 in eleven innings. The afternoon defeat broke Detroit's run of ten consecutive victories. Doyle, who finished both games, was credited with the morning victory and the afternoon defeat.

Heilmann's double gave Detroit the morning game and his bat was an important factor in prolonging the afternoon game. By innings:

Indians and Sox Split.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Cleveland and Chicago broke even yesterday, the Indians taking the first, 6 to 5, and Chicago the second, 5 to 0. Jim Edwards, former Indian, started his first game for Chicago in the second contest. He walked seven but struck out three and allowed four hits. He also contributed a single that drove in a run. By innings:

Red Cox Beat Yankees.

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees yesterday, 5 to 1, bringing to an end the four-game winning streak of the Hugmen. Babe Ruth, who has made his peace with Manager Huggins, was back in the lineup for the first time since his suspension and $5,000 fine. He was loudly cheered throughout the game, but failed to distinguish himself, fanning twice and making an error in left field. The best he could get was a single in four times at bat.

Howard Ehmke held the Hugmen to five hits, one of which was Gehrig's sixteenth home run of the year. Five hits bunched off Jones in the second, aided by a sacrifice and base on balls, gave Boston four runs. By innings:

Filipino Boy Makes Hit In "Frisco" Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—(I. N. S.)—Jack Dempsey shared honors in today's post-mortems on the champion's exhibition appearance here yesterday with a new-comer, "Clever" Sencio, a tiny dark-skinned Filipino, making his first appearance in the United States on a campaign to take Pancho Villa's flyweight championship title back to the Philippines, created a sensation by finishing off his opponent in less than two rounds.

"The hit of the show," and "The smartest little ring demon" shown here recently were some of the phrases used by the sport scribes on his appearance.

Dempsey never looked better in ring togs and the experts conceded that he still "looks the champion." Dempsey's two sparring partners were doing nicely today.

Most of the sport writers were inclined to believe that Lou Palusa, Salt Lake City, got a little more than was coming to him when he drew with Tommy Cello, local pride.

The gate receipts totalled $39,640.

It was learned that the junior lightweight champion, who was to have met Lew Palusa here, while slightly improved, has had the operation recommended and that it probably will be performed. Just when the fighter will leave for the east has not been determined, depending it was said, upon how quick and complete his recovery is after the operation.

BLACK MAN SHIES AWAY FROM GENE

Wills Persists In Ducking Out of Glove Rumpus With Tunney.

Dark Battler Files Excuse Which Stirs the Ire of Gene's Manager.

BY SID MERCER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The holiday activities of the Runaround A. C. indicate that Harry Wills has replaced Jack Dempsey as the hare and Billy Gibson is now master of the hounds. Gibson is pursuing the sable stevedore in behalf of Gene Tunney, who proclaims an overwhelming desire to engage Wills in battle early in October.

Wills professed his willingness. Everybody is willing, it seems, but no material progress has been made with the match. Wills mumbles something about being obligated to box for New Jersey promoters first.

Gibson, who refers to Wills as the "sambogambian," vehemently declares that the black man is hiding behind an old Newark contract to avoid meeting Tunney this fall.

"He claims that the four horsemen of the applesauce have a prior right to his services," says Gibson. "They seem to be making all his matches."

Gibson Signs With Tex.

Gibson has already signed with Tex Rickard for Tunney, but is privileged to transfer the contract to any other promoter who can get Wills' signature, if Rickard fails. If Wills accepts a Newark date this month, he will deliberately pass a chance to acquire a quarter of a million dollars, which he could get for boxing Tunney at one of the local baseball parks. Such a move would indicate that he is rather apprehensive over his chances with Tunney in a decision rumpus.

Rickard is willing to undertake the promotion of a Tunney-Wills match as a daylight fight at the Yankee stadium next month, but, of course, he cannot afford to take a chance on Wills indulging in a warm-up at Newark.

Harry's hands are brittle and if he injured one of them in the Jersey engagement, Rickard would be in the bag for heavy promotion expenses, with no chance to recoup his losses.

("Chuck") Myers, a young Colorado Springs mechanic, in the annual Pike Peak's climb here yesterday, when he outdid a field of experienced automobile racers and flashed victoriously across the finish line at the summit of the mountain.

Hurtling at terrific speed around the twisting, winding curves along the steep course of twelve and one-half miles, Myers won the victory he has waited for two years. Twice previously he has lined up with the drivers at the foot of the peak and twice he has finished fractionally behind the prize winning time. His time was 17 minutes, 48 2-5 seconds, the fastest in the history of the climb. By his victory Myers won the Penrose trophy and $1,500 in cash.

Two minutes later, Harry Hartz flashed across the line, taking second place. His time was 2 hours eight minutes and 12 seconds.

The veteran, Earl Cooper, who gave the monster gathering of racing fans a sample of high speed during the final fifty miles of the grind, was third, 26 seconds behind Hartz, Fred Comers was fourth.

Leon Duray, fifth; Norman Batten, sixth; "Red" Shaffer, seventh, and Vic Spooner, eighth, finished in the money.

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

On Face and Hands in Rash. Cuticura Healed.

"I suffered with eczema for about a year. It first broke out on my face and hands in a rash and was very annoying. It itched and burned terribly, and I could hardly wash my face. The irritation kept me awake at night.

"I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to do it any good. I heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some. After using a week I got relief so purchased more, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." Market Quotations

GRAIN MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 8.

WHEAT — Both wheat and corn showed a decided trend upward today as soon as the market opened here. A reduction of more than three million bushels of the amount of wheat on ocean passage, together with an unexpected advance in quotations at Liverpool was largely responsible for the action of wheat. Reports of increased damage to corn had also more or less influence on wheat values. Wheat opening price, ¾ to 2¼c higher. December $1.51½ to 1.52 and May, $1.55½ to 1.55¾, were followed by something of a snag and then by a fresh advance.

Subsequent declines failed to last in the face of the fact that hedging sales were of less volume than many traders had expected and that the United States visible supply increase was also smaller than in general was looked for. Market closed firm, 1⅞ to 2⅜c net higher, December $1.52½@1.52⅝ and May $1.56⅝@1.56¾.

CORN—According to reports which were current, 50 per cent of the corn crop in central Illinois has been prematurely ripened owing to recent excessive heat with pastures bare and creeks going dry. After opening at ⅛ to 1¾c up, December 86½ to 86¾, the corn market reacted a little, but soon rose higher than before.

Later the corn market underwent something of a sag owing more or less to talk that the government report tomorrow would not fully reflect crop damage to date. Corn closed easy, at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c lower, December 85⅞@86c.

OATS—Oats were a trifle firmer, owing to corn strength. Starting at ⅛ to ⅜@½c higher. December 42¼ to 42¾, oats held near to the initial range.

PROVISIONS lacked support.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

Responding to reports of expanding fall business, stock prices resumed their upward movement today under the leadership of the motor shares. Marking up of the call money rate to 5 per cent on the calling of loans to make up the deficit in reserves shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement, caused a temporary setback around the noon hour which carried many issues off 1 to 3 points from their earlier highs, but the rally was resumed in the afternoon when Chrysler crossed 149 for a net gain of more than 10 points, to within a small fraction of its record high. Mail order, merchandising, food, equipments and publicity issues also developed several points of strength, with pools again active in a number of specialties. Rails followed in the wake of the industrials, Kansas City Southern assuming the leadership of that group by climbing 4 points to a record high. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Gulf, Mobile & Northern common also broke through their previous peak prices.

Rising prices characterized the resumption of stock market trading after the double holiday. Pierce-Arrow common and preferred opened at 44 and 94, respectively, both new high records for the year, and initial gains of 1 to 2½ points were recorded by Allis-Chalmers, Chrysler, R. H. Macy, Du Pont and Sears Roebuck. American Can was heavy.

Operators for the rise were active in several sections of the list, bidding up their favorites on the theory that fall business, judged by such indices as freight car loadings and bank clearings, gave promise of substantial earnings to most lines. Additional new high records for the year were established in the first few minutes of trading by Fleischmann, American Agricultural Chemical preferred, Certainteed Products and Atlantic Gulf & West Indies. There was a marked absence of the short selling that swept over the market in the early days of last week, but covering operations were again in evidence.

Foreign exchanges opened irregular, one of the features being a jump of over 7 points in Italian lire, which were quoted around 4.07 cents. Demand sterling ruled unchanged at 4.84⅝ and French francs were slightly higher at 4.69 cents. Norwegian kroner jumped 23 points to 21.68 cents, but Danish kroner fell back to 25.02 cents.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.

CATTLE—Receipts, 7,000. Tuesday's moderate run of cattle included a better assortment of both corn fed and range beeves, and the market ruled steady to strong on anything at all desirable in this line, corn feds going at around $13.00 or higher, and grass beeves up to $8.50 and better. Cows and heifers were also in rather liberal supply, but fairly broad demand at steady prices and the trade in stockers and feeders was much the same as Monday although action was perhaps a little better.

Closing: Cattle. NOLTE DENIES HE IS KILLER

by Earl Towne, barber of Wellfleet, Neb. who identified him as one of the two men he had shaved shortly before the murder of Clark. Two other men from near Colby, Kas. also identified him as one of the men who shot Sheriff Pratt, Condit said.

Say Connected in the Theft.

Nolte and Coren are also said to have been identified as being the men who stole the Buick car from Dalhart, Tex., which was abandoned by the two men after Sheriff Pratt was killed.

Shortly after the killing of Sheriff Pratt, this car was traced by Sheriff Berthe and other officers, through the bureau of automobile identification, as having been stolen in Dalhart. A wire of Dalhart officers brought the information that Nolte and Coren had disappeared from Dalhart the same day the car was stolen. Nolte was known both to Dalhart officers and in Tucumcari, N. M. where his parents live When he returned to Tucumcari he was arrested and held for identification.

The officers have no trace of Coren whatever, Berthe said. When last heard of he was headed south through Texas. It is believed that he went straight on to the border and is probably now in Mexico.

Apparently Nolte is about 21 or 22 years old, though his parents claim that he is seventeen years old, Condit said. He comes from a respected family in Tucumcari, Condit said. Every effort was made to obtain his release. However, Nolte came without extradition papers.

Although the killing of Sheriff Pratt occurred in Kansas, the authorities of that state have relinquished their claim to Nolte and are willing that he be prosecuted in the Nebraska courts. If a conviction cannot be obtained here he will be tunned over to the Kansas officers and he will face charges there for the killing of Pratt, Berthe said.

J. F. Ward, Tucumcari chief of police, who made the arrest of Nolte, has been awarded $1,100 of the reward offered for the capture of the two men. The other half of the reward is still standing for the capture of the other man, Clyde Coren, Sheriff Berthe said this morning.

$1,850 Is Paid For Loss of Eye

John H. Burbank will receive $1,850 compensation against the Lincoln Traction Co., and its surety for a peculiar accident which caused him to lose the sight of his left eye. He was working with an acetylene track-welding machine when the nozzle back-fired and the flash of light resulting therefrom destroyed the vision in that optic. An agreement was reached for the payment of the sum mentioned, and the state labor department has approved it.

IOWA W. C. T. U. WORKER SLAIN AT HER HOME

this county, but was well known for her activities along this line in other parts of the state.

Her husband, C. B. Cook, is employed at Sioux City.

Complained To Police.

A complaint by Mrs. Cook that there had been drinking at a cafe near her home recently brought about the arrest of a young man, who, however, is not suspected of any connection with the shooting. He was sentenced to jail, but was released a short time afterward on furnishing information concerning the alleged liquor activities of another man.

The window through which the fatal shot was fired was closed, the bullet shattering the glass pane. Mrs. Cook a short time prior to the shooting had returned home from the Christian church where she had attended a meeting of Sunday school teachers. Exactly two months ago after returning home from a similar meeting her residence was smeared with rotten eggs.

Mrs. Cook had been very active in church work as well as in her anti-liquor activities.

No arrests had been made up to 10 o'clock this morning.

Victim Termed Martyr.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—"A martyr to the cause of prohibition," was the way Mrs. Abbie Anderson, recording secretary of the Iowa W. C. T. U., characterized Mrs. C. B. Cook of Vinton, when informed today of the death of Mrs. Cook and the theory of Vinton officers that she was shot by a bootlegger.

Mrs. Cook, as the Benton county W. C. T. U. president, had waged a vigorous warfare on rum runners for the past two years. Officers at headquarters here, however, have had no communication from her recently that might throw light on the cause of the slaying.

About two months ago Mrs. Cook requested headquarters here for financial aid in her campaign and for the assignment of a dry law officer to Benton county. The request for an officer was referred to Federal Prohibition Director Brunson.

Benton county is regarded here as one of the most active fields for rum runners who pass through that section of the state in large numbers enroute from Chicago and the east to Des Moines and other western cities.

ing at the fair will be the opening of the second annual dog show, with seventy different breeds entered. In the afternoon another new feature, the style show by the girls' clubs, will be staged at 4 o'clock at the extension building.

The Thaviu singers have been very well received Secretary Jackson believes, and while a record day was spoiled for them Monday, the interest the people have shown in a few short appearances on the grounds should insure a big audience for the remainder of the evening shows, he declares.

The fine arts exhibit this year is a third larger than last, said Mrs. Wilson Field of Lincoln, the superintendent, and many more of the exhibits are coming from other points in the state than Lincoln and Omaha. She is especially enthusiastic over the improved quality of work, persons interested in the exhibit says it is proving its educational value by encouraging the poorer exhibitors of last year to study toward improvement.

The oil and water color painting displays are unusually large, with especially good work by Mrs. Laura Grubb of University Place Miss Selma Ebert of Sutton.

Pastels, basketry, arts and crafts, and work on ceramics are also much improved and the exhibits larger. One case of about twenty-two professional pieces is worth at least $1,500, Mrs. Field estimated.

Antiques, a new department this year, drew a large entryr list. Another new division is the handmade pottery, especially successfull since many of the artists found it impossible to get china to work upon, Mrs. Field said.

A varied display of batiks, jewelry, lamp shades and other articles is also entered, and Mrs Field hopes to establish a modeling or sculpturing division next year.

U. S. AIRMEN BOMB RIFFS

planes, fires flared up, the smoke from them giving the danger signal.

When the airmen got to the city, the streets were empty. All the Riffians had taken to cover. It is said that many buildings were hit. Capt. James Vincent Sparks, an Indianapolis dentist, made his first trip with Sandi Lecointe, French ace. Sparks says he saw one of his 100 pound bombs explode in the middle of the city.

The Riffians had installed a machine gun battery on the mountains. A French observer was shot in the foot.

Strong Riff Defense.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A Madrid dispatch to Le Journal concerning the fighting in Morocco reports that a Spanish attempt yesterday to land troops at Alhucemas after last week's continual Franco-Spanish naval and aerial bombardment was balked by the strong Riffian defense.

The Franco-Spanish allies thereupon re-inforced their aviation unit and accentuated their bombardment preparatory to another attempt today.

Announce Landing.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Spanish troops have landed on the Moroccan coast in the Bay of Alhucemas, it was officially announced today.

A NEW KIND OF SAFETY—

FOR USED CAR BUYERS.

THE AVERAGE CAR BUYER—When he buys a used car, is simply guessing. It is almost impossible for him to know, merely by looking at a car, what kind of service it will give.

THAT'S WHY—We have signed the Studebaker Dealer's Pledge to the Public on Used Car Sales. Every Certified Used Car sold under this pledge carries with it a 30-day guarantee against faulty parts. Don't get a used car before you look into it. It will save you worry and expense in the long run.

2½ Tons Heats 5 Rooms!

"There is no heater to compare with the Bulldog. I burned 2½ tons of coal last winter and heated 5 rooms and bath."—Walter Geary, Gloucester, Mass. That's what the Bulldog does with coal! Now read, in the letter of Mr. Redetzke, what it does with about the lowest grade of fuel you can think of! Why not cut down your fuel bills?

Heats Home for 25c a Week!

"I can run my Bulldog Furnace for fourteen days in normal weather conditions on the actual cost of fifty cents." So writes F. R. Redetzke, of Cleveland, North Dakota, and he adds: "Hard to believe, is it? That's what some of my neighbors thought until I showed them! We have an unlimited amount of grain screenings which I use for fuel."

Cuts Coal Bill in Half!

"I had a hot air furnace in our seven-room house before I got the Bulldog and our house was always cold. With the Bulldog it only takes half as much coal and we had weather below zero, and the house was nice and warm in the morning when we got up. We never have the draft on more than half an hour at a time, and it has the place red hot. It keeps the fire all day in mild weather." — Jess T. Conrad, 1121 West Arch Street, Shamokin, Pa.

Heats Seven Rooms Instead of One!

"We have seven rooms, four on the first floor and three on the second, and the Bulldog heats them fine. We find it takes a little more coal to heat the whole house than it did to heat one room with a stove using chestnut coal."—J. B. Smith, 19 Elm Street, Sommerville, N. J.

40 Below Outside; 75 Above Inside

"I must say that I am well satisfied with the Bulldog furnace, as it doesn't take much fuel to keep the house warm. I am using wood and green wood at that! It has been around 40 below zero outside, but have had no trouble keeping the temperature up around 70 and 75. I have seven rooms and bath, so it does all you claim for it. If I were to buy another furnace, it would be a Bulldog every time."—A. P. Nelson, Oakdale Farm, Frederic, Wis.

Bulldog Is Just What He Wanted

"I wanted a square heater that would not take up half my cellar, also one with a square fire box, so my fire would burn even. I lived in a place with a furnace having a round fire box and never had an even fire. I wanted a heater that would not break my back to shake it, one that would save coal and give me heat. I have it today installed in my cellar. It is a Bulldog."—Robert P. Carter, Kingston, N. Y.

Comes Completely Erected. You Install It Yourself!

Get all the heat you want—right where you want it—and save money, too! Install a Bulldog Furnace. It comes to you completely erected—goes through any door—fits any height of basement—and you install it yourself in less than two hours! In fact, H. B. Keater, of Libertyville, N. Y., says he installed his Bulldog in 28 minutes! And the comfort you get! Don't put up with the old fashioned stove heat or some outworn furnace—when you can so easily get the latest and greatest advance in scientific heating at an astonishingly low price. The Bulldog burns almost any kind of fuel, from hard coal to cheap screenings. Keeps a wood fire over night. And it gives so much for so little fuel that Bulldog users are amazed. We have factory connections both East and West and ship from nearest point.
